All the new ministers except Mr. MacLaren were sworn in at Government House this afternoon. Mr. MacLaren is expected to arrive in the capital tomorrow and will be sworn in then.

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from "The Times" daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright, 1945, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, April 18.—The enormous German losses on the Western Front in the past 16 days emphasize the breakdown of the whole German war machine. Only in the East against the Russians is there an army left capable of fighting a big-scale battle.

That United States troops have met Russian units in the neighborhood of Dresden is not confirmed by The Times' Paris correspondent, who says reports the Allies are on the outskirts of Berlin are unfounded.

Whatever plans have been made by the respective high commands for the capture of Berlin, nothing is disclosed about them at Supreme Headquarters for security reasons. Close liaison is kept between the Allied commanders-in-chief on both sides of Germany.

The collapse of the Luftwaffe is stressed by the fact that aircraft are being destroyed on the ground because of lack of petrol.

Recently the total strength of the Nazi Air Force was estimated not to exceed 4,000 machines. What is left of the Luftwaffe on German airdromes is falling back to Czecho-Slovakian airfields. Considerable troop movements towards Prague and Pilsen suggest the German forces may try to make a stand inside the Czecho-Slovak mountain bastion.

It would be crowning irony, says The Times' correspondent, if Czecho-Slovakian fortifications, which before the war were believed to be more powerful than the Siegfried Line, were to become the last Nazi refuge.

It is now apparent that on Field Marshal Montgomery's flank the Nazis are trying to escape by sea from Northern Holland, where much shipping has been seen northeast of Amerford. The Germans have flooded the area around Bilversum.

The Times diplomatic correspondent says that there is no truth in the United States reports that Moscow has made concessions to Britain and the United States over the Polish Government's representation

U.S. Casualties in Okinawa at 7,895

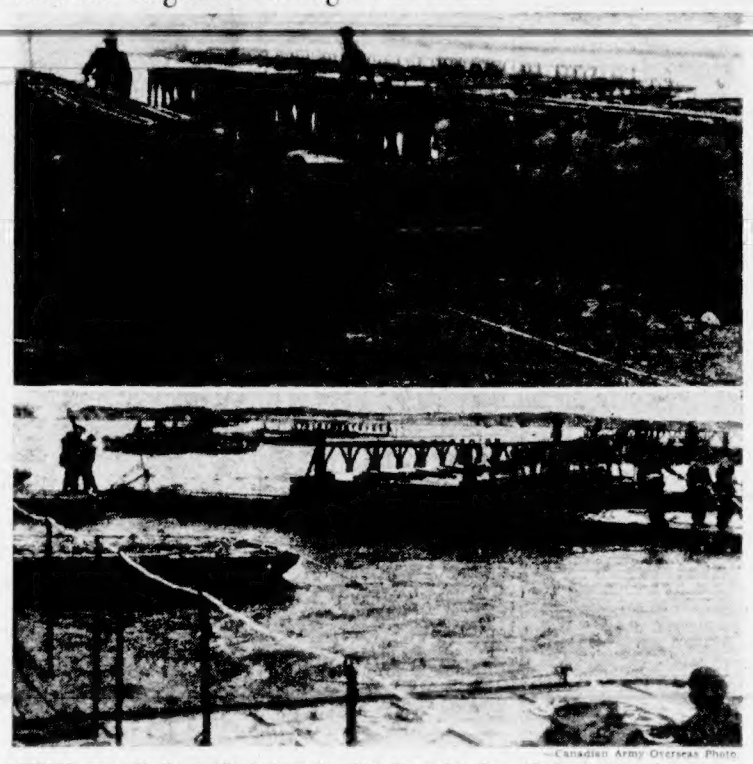

GUAM, April 19 (Thursday) (AP).—American casualties of 7,895, including 1,467 killed, were reported by the navy today for the Okinawa campaign and associated strikes against Japan.

This included, for navy alone, 949 killed, 2,220 wounded and 1,491 missing. For the army and marines, the figures showed 478 killed, 2,457 wounded and 260 missing.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the United States Pacific Fleet, said the casualties were as of April 18—"the most recent reports available."

The latest reports on Japanese casualties on Okinawa, invaded April 1, were as of midnight Friday, when 9,108 had been killed and 391 made prisoner.

Canadian Engineers Bridge the Rhine

KEEPING pace with the rapidly moving Canadian First Army is no small task when it comes to building bridges for their ever-growing lines of communications, but the Royal Canadian Engineers have performed near miracles in bridging the Rhine River after the Canadians historic crossing.

Top photo shows engineers sliding into position a section of bridge that crossed the Rhine near the Dutch border and on completion was named "Blackfriars Bridge," after a famous old bridge in England.

The lower picture shows engineers floating sections of a Bailey bridge into place. This was later named "Melville Bridge." Canadian armour is now rolling across the Rhine and other German rivers, on this and similar bridges in the final stages of liberating the continent.

Vital Helgoland Base of Nazis Blasted by Heavies

First All-Canadian Wing Sets Up Shop in Germany to Smash at Enemy Strong Points

LONDON, April 18 (AP).—Germany's North Sea island fortress of Helgoland and the adjacent island of Dune were carpeted with approximately 4,000 tons of explosives today by nearly 1,000 R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. heavy bombers making a record attack on the navy-base which now is believed sheltering the major part of Hitler's U-boat fleet.

About 75 United States heavy bombers bombed a railway yard and transformer station at Traunstein, 23 miles northwest of Hitler's Alpine hideout at Berchtesgaden.

This group was part of a force of 750 American heavies which smashed at freight yards and rail facilities deep in Southern Germany and in Western Czecho-Slovakia for the third straight day. That is the area between the American and Russian armies.

The heavy bombers were accompanied by 600 fighters strafing all airdromes in the area in a hunt which has brought the destruction of 2,950 German planes within 11 days and the total of 1,483 during the last two days.

The American flyers failed to find German planes on the ground today, however, and the 8th Air Force reported destroying only one aircraft on the ground and three in the air. Four United States bombers and one fighter were missing.

London Poles Spurn Proposal

LONDON, April 18 (AP). — The Polish Government in London, split with Peasant Leader Stanislaw Mikolajczyk on policy, spurned in advance today any compromise formation of a Soviet-sponsored Polish administration without British and American consultations.

A spokesman for the Government interpreted Prime Minister Churchill's cancellation of a House of Commons speech scheduled for Thursday as an admission that the British Government was not being kept informed of Polish-Soviet talks reported in progress in Moscow.

Simultaneously, the official acknowledged the possibility of the formation of another Soviet-sponsored provisional government, but maintained that such a creation would be directly dependent upon the "degree of pressure" exercised by Russia.

With the Polish Government here expressing determination to stand pat against compromise with the U.S.S.R., the spokesmen said it had received no word from 16 Polish leaders who were reported recently to have left their homeland in the company of Soviet officials.

He said there was a possibility that some of these might be persuaded to join the Warsaw regime and that the joint group might then ben announced by Russia to the United Nations as the new Polish Government on a take-it or leave-it basis.

Suspicious of Von Papen's Presence on Allied Side of Lines

MOSCOW, April 18 (AP).—Konstantin Hoffman, commentator for Red Star, Soviet army newspaper, suggested today that the Germans deliberately placed their 100-ton cache of gold in the Allied path, and he also viewed the capture of the Nazi diplomat, Franz Von Papen, with suspicion.

The capture by the United States Third Army of the Merkers Salt Mine and its tons of Reichsbank gold bullion early this month was termed by the article the result of "a timely transfer" from Berlin to "one" of the towns lying on the route of the advanced Allied armies.

Hoffman quoted the Yorkshire Post as saying Von Papen was no "accidental prisoner" of the Americans, and expressed alarm over the presence of the diplomat and German industrialists on the Western Allies' side of the front.

Warns Nazis Not To Scuttle Ships

LONDON, April 18 (CP). — Allied Supreme Headquarters warned German merchant seamen tonight to ignore any Nazi orders to scuttle their ships and bluntly announced that Germany would have to depend on its own fleet for any supplies it got from the outside world.

"There will be no Allied shipping available for German needs," the Nazi seamen were told in a broadcast transmitted in the name of Gen. Eisenhower.

New Landing On Mindanao

MANILA, April 19 (Thursday) (AP).—United States troops, landing under excellent air and naval cover, secured a 35-mile beachhead on Southern Mindanao Tuesday in a second invasion of that Japanese-held Philippine Island.

The Americans went ashore at Malabang and Parang, on the eastern shore of Illana Bay. This was eastward across Moro Gulf from Zamboanga Peninsula, now largely in the hands of other Americans who made the first Mindanao landing March 10.

Other forces continued to mop up enemy cave positions on the outskirts of Baguio, Philippine Summer capital on Northern Luzon. The Americans are within the outskirts but meeting furious resistance.

A heavy raid on Formosa was carried out by heavy bombers which unloaded 360 tons of bombs on Taihoku town and air bases in the north.

British Continue Burma Advances

ADVANCE ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Burma, April 18 (Reuters) — British Fourteenth Army troops, still pushing forward under a security screen have captured a village of great tactical importance, south of the airfields city of Meiktila.

The link-up with other Fourteenth Army forces advancing from Kyuakpaudung, 50 miles west of Meiktila, furnishes Lt.-Gen. Sir William Slim with an unbroken front against the Japanese in South Burma.

Difficult country lies ahead of these troops. Water is a great problem and men have not only to fight against the Japanese but against heat and exhaustion.

War Not Over Till Japan Defeated, Asserts London

LONDON, April 18 (AP).—Official Britain's attitude on the military outlook after the defeat of Germany is summed up by a War Office spokesman who says "the war will not be over for us any more than for the Americans, until Japan is totally defeated."

The spokesman for all three British services insisted that Britain is going all the way.

The Royal Navy is expected to be the first British service to make its weight felt in the Pacific. The battleships Howe and the King George V and the aircraft carrier Illustrious already are in the Far East, and the Japanese radio has reported a great British invasion fleet on its way east, presumably preparatory to attempts to clean up Burma, Malaya and The Netherlands East Indies.

The U-boat war has been won, and now top priority is reported to have been given to the construction of many small carriers for use in the Pacific. The navy is expected to get first call on jet-propelled craft when the war against Germany ends.

The most obvious point of application for British naval strength would be from the west, while the Americans hit from the east, against Japanese holdings. A London Daily Express naval commentator recently wrote:

"The gap between the Philippines and the China coast must be completely closed and the Jap divisions in Malaya, Sumatra and Java cut off from their homeland.

"But until Singapore has first been secured, there can be no possibility of great by-passing strikes previously practiced in the Central Pacific by United States Army landing forces, covered and transported by naval supremacy."

An official military commentator said "the army is certainly going to play its full share with the other services." The War Office is drafting plans for speedy re-allocation of some of the best units to the Eastern theatre.

Demobilization of British soldiers will be based on age and length of war service, meaning that most of the younger men are liable for service against the Japanese regardless of how much action they have seen elsewhere.

The R.A.F. which, with the British Army, is already committed to Far Eastern fighting, also is preparing to revise its plans and tactics to meet different conditions in the Pacific. R.C.A.F. aircraft are serving with the R.A.F. in the Pacific.

Both Britain and Canada are building new long-range bombers suitable for raids on Japan. Both are described as being larger than the present British Lancaster, which is the world's greatest weight-lifter.

Newly-Named B.C. Power Commission to Meet Today

The newly-appointed British Columbia Power Commission, announced by Premier John Hart yesterday, will hold its first meeting today. The commission, consisting of Samuel R. Weston, chairman; Major-General W. W. Foster and Forrest L. Shaw, will meet Premier John Hart at 10 a.m. and after a brief conference will adjourn to Mr. Weston's office for its organization meeting.

Mr. Weston, chairman of the commission, has until recently been chief engineer of the Provincial Public Utilities Commission. Major-General Foster has been serving as special commissioner for defence projects in Northwest Canada, and Mr. Shaw has been solicitor for the City of Victoria since 1938.

Premier Hart said yesterday he had received the assurance of commission members that no time would be lost in organizing the administrative structure of the new organization so that development of power and acquisition of plants might proceed immediately.

Under the Power Bill creating the commission, "provision was made for setting up a tribunal to determine prices to be paid for plants acquired," Premier Hart stated. "Consequently neither the Government nor the commission will have the responsibility of determining the valuation."

Scheduled for discussion with the Premier this morning are general development problems and questions of policy.

SEEK EARLY START ON DEVELOPMENT OF POWER

"I am most anxious that the commission make an early start on the development of power throughout the province so that the many benefits to be derived may be brought to the people as expedi-

OIL PLANT FIRE

LOS ANGELES, April 18 (AP).—Fire broke out late tonight in the tank car loading rack of the Standard Oil Company in nearby El Segundo and quickly enveloped the two-blocks long structure in a conflagration which Manager W. W. Davidson described as "serious."

A company spokesman said he was unable to estimate how much gasoline or other combustibles were in imminent danger.

No injuries or explosions were reported immediately.

The flames could be seen for miles.

Canadians Reach Zuider Zee—Magdeburg Captured—Fall of Leipzig Believed Near

PARIS, April 18 (AP).—Tank-riding troops of the United States Third Army slashed across the border of Czecho-Slovakia today into the Sudetenland which Hitler annexed in 1938, cutting Germany geographically and climaxing the dash of the western Allies across the Reich from the Rhine.

Tonight troops who won the historic race and crossed the frontier north of Asch were reported fighting two miles inside Czecho-Slovakia in the vicinity of Gott-Mannszgrun, ten miles east of the German city of Hof.

Three other American armies fought to clear such important German cities as Leipzig, Nuernberg and Duesseldorf, and British armor swept within 18 miles of the great North Sea port of Hamburg at the apex of its advance along a 40-mile front.

Magdeburg, 60 miles southwest of Berlin, was conquered, and American forces drove almost to the heart of Leipzig, Germany's fifth largest city. Front dispatches said Leipzig, site of Germany's renowned fairs, might fall within hours.

Canadian forces topped off their steady successes in Holland by reaching the Zuider Zee in the Northern Netherlands. They were less than two miles from the great inland sea on the south and were moving steadily toward Rotterdam, Amsterdam and Utrecht. The Germans now hold only a fragment of the whole coastline of Northern Holland, at a point west across an estuary from Emden.

Hundreds of Allied planes hammered railroads and airfields the Germans need to defend Czecho-Slovakia against the deadly squeeze of the Russians and the Allies from the West and East.

Pilots reported that enemy movement by rail and highway had decreased markedly, and said trains and rail yards in Czecho-Slovakia from Eger to Karlsbad were in smoking ruins.

French forces attacking German pockets preventing use of the Allied-held Atlantic port of Bordeaux captured another 700 Germans, virtually ending the operation north of the

New "Break-Through" Tanks and Automatic Weapons Lead Mass Crossing of Oder River

LONDON, April 19 (Thursday) (AP).—Millions of Russians, led by new "break-through" tanks and automatic weapons throwing 325 shells a minute, were reported by the Germans today to be pouring across the Oder and Neisse Rivers northeast and southeast of Berlin and directly into the city's eastern environs.

Moscow gave no official confirmation of any assault toward Berlin. The Germans, however, reported heaviest pressure on a 60-mile arc 18 to 20 miles east of the city and said other powerful armies had crossed the Lower Oder south of the Baltic port of Stettin toward the plains northeast of Berlin and were across the Neisse River in Saxony south of the capital.

The situation on the Neisse front was complicated by a confused German broadcast saying that Marshal Ivan S. Koney's First Ukraine Army had succeeded in a break-through and implying that this force might be within 44 miles of the United States First Army fighting at Wurzen in the Leipzig area.

The German announcer, Walter Estermann, of the Transocean Agency, said:

"The Germans are still keeping check on enemy ground gains accruing to him after a successful breaching of the fortified main battle areas. The enemy is meeting with a violent response from our troops in this (Neisse) area.

"This success would remain even if Koney's fast tank spearheads should break through the fortified clearing of the wood of Finsterwalde, (50 miles) south of Berlin, within

Eighth Over Gaiana Canal

ROME, April 18 (AP).—Polish and Indian troops of the British Eighth Army crossed the Gaiana Canal ten miles east of Bologna today and Allied Fifth Army forces drove within 12 and 14 miles south and southwest of that city, the first major objective in the campaign to knock out the German Army in Italy.

Italian and New Zealand units in the Eighth Army reached the Gaiana on a broad front, while to the northeast other Eighth Army forces pressed against determined resistance in the foretield of the enemy's so-called "Genghis Khan Line" covering the Po River approaches and Bologna.

This line, running along the Idece River from just south of Bologna northeastward to Boccaleone and thence along the Sabbiosola Canal to Lake Comacchio, is described as the third and toughest of the German defensive positions northeast of Bologna.

Menace American Base at Chihkiang

CHUNGKING, April 18 (AP).—Reinforced Japanese columns striking westward at points 37 miles from Poachiang were imperilling the American air base at Chihkiang in Western Hunan, 250 miles southeast of Chungking, the Chinese High Command indicated in an announcement today.

The High Command claimed further gains by Chinese forces counter-attacking in the Honan-Hupeh area.

The Japanese movement westward meant that enemy forces were within 75 miles of Chihkiang.

ROME, April 18 (AP).—United States Government property worth more than $1,500,000 was recovered by agents of the Criminal Investigation Division, Mediterranean theatre of operations, which investigated 4,967 alleged crimes against the Government in 1944, it was disclosed by Lieutenant-Colonel Robert J. Wilson, the division's director.

Canadians Drive On

Inflict a Smashing Defeat on Germans

By ROSS MUNRO

WITH THE CANADIAN FIRST ARMY, April 18 (CP).—German defenders of "Fortress Holland," where perhaps 110,000 enemy troops are contained, resorted tonight to flooding to buttress the Grebbe Line, running south from the Zuider Zee to the Neder Rhine, in an effort to block Canadian and British advances.

The enemy took this step after Gen. Crerar's Canadian First Army troops administered a smashing defeat to German forces between Arnhem and the Zuider Zee and captured between 5,000 and 6,000 prisoners.

While other Canadians liberated Northeast Holland and extended to nearly 1½ miles a bitterly-contested bridgehead over the Kusten Canal in Northwest Germany, the enemy opened sluice gates north of Amersfoort, through which the 18-mile-long Grebbe Line passes. Flood waters from the great inland sea began to roll over the Polder land (reclaimed from the sea) screening the northern end of the line.

With Northeast Holland liberated, the 200-mile Canadian front has been split into two sectors—one facing the Grebbe Line and the other in Northwest Germany. Overcoming the Grebbe Line and "Fortress Holland" may take some time and may involve amphibious operations over flooded country. That, however, would be nothing new to Canadians who fought such a war in the drive over the Rhine flat lands east of Nijmegen, Holland, in February.

Coupled with flooding between Utrecht and Amsterdam, west of Amersfoort, a formidable water barrier was being created to further Canadian army attacks.

Canadian infantry and tanks were five miles east of Amersfoort and an unconfirmed report said

Concentration Camp Freed By British Scene of Horror

BRITISH SECOND ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Germany, April 18 (AP).—Prisoners in the Belsen concentration camp, a stinking, filthy horror, were freed Sunday by Lt.-Gen. Dempsey's men.

The camp contained 29,000 persons still alive and uncounted dead.

It contained typhus, typhoid, tuberculosis, nakedness, starvation, dumps of unburied corpses in vast heaps, mounds covering great burial heaps, one carnous pit half-filled with blackened bodies.

There were children—500 of them—in the midst of this.

Babies were born there daily.

These were the findings of a senior medical officer of the British Second Army, who has been at the camp three days and says: "Anything you have seen doesn't even begin the story."

The living are being moved to the relative luxury of a nearby army barracks. Soon none will be left here except those with communicable diseases too ill to move.

Eventually, says this officer, the only conceivable disposition of this Nazi monument will be destruction by fire.

There were 2,000 women in three compounds in this camp and nearly 12,000 men in two other compounds. In adjacent barracks in one corner of the vast camp are 15,000 more prisoners who are fairly recent arrivals.

"Horror Camp" is what the medical officer calls it.

SHOOT PRISONERS AFTER SURRENDER

After his arrival at the camp S.S. guards under the direction of their commander were still shooting prisoners who were trying to steal potatoes. The S.S. had failed to abide by the surrender terms to turn in their arms because they feared the vengeance of the emaciated victims of their inhumanity.

The S.S. men were promptly disarmed when discovered and now are assigned to cleaning up the camp as a slight measure of retribution.

How many died here there is no way of knowing. Indefinite reports say 30,000 died in the last few months.

In the middle of the camp there is a mound 80 yards by 30 yards of the naked bodies of women piled table-high.

Most of the dead were victims not of disease, but starvation. The rations were three daily issues of watery soup made of meal and a few vegetables. Once or twice a week a few bits of meat were thrown into the cooking cauldrons. But the issue was by huts, not individuals. Each hut leader sent four persons [illegible] to get the rations, but in practical effect the distribution was not supervised and those too weak to fight for their own food got none.

The S.S. masters occasionally gave the children small bits of candy, the prisoners said.

LONDON, April 18 (CP).—Published accounts of German concentration camps, which have been stirring Britons for several days, will be brought up formally in the House of Commons tomorrow when Prime Minister Churchill will be asked if the infamous Buchenwald camp will be preserved to remind future generations of Nazi cruelties.

The matter of the guilt of Nazi leaders in the mounting list of war crimes was the subject of exchanges in the House today. The shaping of new questions stems from British convictions that Germany and the world must not be allowed to forget the pain the Germans have inflicted and that those responsible must be punished.

Power Commission

tiously as possible," Premier Hart said.

"It is the desire of the Government that power be developed, in order that large blocks will be available to enable existing industries to expand and so that industries encouraged to establish in this province will be assured of an adequate supply of power."

Premier Hart said he had been advised by Mr. Weston that he had already "given considerable thought to the preparation of a tentative program that could be submitted to his colleagues for their early consideration, discussion and recommendation to the Government."

Following today's meetings Major-General Foster will return to his post in Edmonton to clear up essential details of his work there before relinquishing his post.

"In selecting the personnel of the commission every care was given to the qualifications of the men," the Premier explained.

Mr. Weston, chairman, was graduated as a bachelor of science from the University of New Brunswick in 1914 and, following six years of general eggineering and construction work, had 25 years in electric power development. He is a member of the Engineering Institute of Canada.

When the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission was established in 1920 he was named assistant chief engineer, and in 1923 became chief engineer. He left that post in 1939 to become chief engineer of, and technical adviser to, the British Columbia Public Utilities Commission.

Since coming to British Columbia Mr. Weston has supervised appraisal of the 14 companies in the B.C. Electric Railway group, and took part in rate hearings before the Public Utilities Commission. He has also made appraisals, for rate purposes, of several other utility companies.

WORK ON POWER RATES ATTRACTED ATTENTION

Mr. Shaw came to British Columbia in 1910 and was articled to a law firm in Victoria. When the last war broke out he went overseas, where he was seriously wounded.

Returning to Victoria he resumed his studies and was called to the bar in 1919. Hhe practised law in Victoria until 1922, when he went to Kelowna for two years for his health. After his return to Victoria in 1924 he conducted a private practice until 1938, when he was appointed city solicitor.

While city solicitor he revised all the city's by-laws, and his presentation of the City of Victoria's rate case before the Public Utilities Commission attracted him to the attention of the Government.

Major-General Foster, born in England and educated at Wycliffe College, came to British Columbia in 1894, and prior to the outbreak of war in 1914 was deputy minister of public works for British Columbia.

He served with distinction during the last war. When the present war started in 1939 he was appointed to organize the Auxiliary Services of the Department of National Defence. In 1940 he was placed in command of Military District No. 12 and later of Military District No. 6. He became special commissioner for defence projects in Northwest Canada when the Alaska Highway was under construction.

In civil life, from the end of the last war until 1935, he was president and managing director of Pacific Engineers, Ltd.—Vancouver. From January 1, 1936, until the outbreak of war he served as Vancouver chief of police.

He is a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society, a director of the Canadian Geographical Society and a member of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy.

71-Year-Old Doctor Dies at Qualicum

NANAIMO, April 18.—Dr. Donald J. Macdonald, 71-year-old physician, died at his home at Qualicum today. He had practised in British Columbia for 30 years, retiring five years ago and taking up residence at Qualicum a year ago. He is survived by his wife, four sons and one daughter.

J. D. Jenkins, Nanaimo, have charge of funeral arrangements, which are not yet completed.

Ask Resignation Of Union Officer

VANCOUVER, April 18 (CP).—Officials of the United Steelworkers of America (C.I.O.) announced today that the sub-district council of the union last night voted 17 to 9 in favor of asking for the resignation of Corey Campbell, council secretary. All union locals of Vancouver and New Westminster, numbering 16 organizations, were represented in the vote.

The vote followed charges that Campbell had issued a press statement yesterday without authority. The statement claimed that union funds were being diverted to the C.C.F. for political purposes. It concerned $300 paid two years ago to Herbert Gargrave, C.C.F. member of the British Columbia Legislature for Mackenzie constituency, officials said.

Mr. Gargrave, a member of the Painters' Union (A.F.L.), served as chairman of the C.C.F. trade union committee in 1943. He had been hired to promote relationships between labor and the C.C.F.

Pen Baskin, U.S.W.A. international representative here, said that a further resolution was passed in which the council said in future any statements issued by Campbell would represent only his views and not those of the council.

Mr. Campbell today said: "I don't think they can oust me constitutionally—I was elected secretary of the council at the last annual general meeting and they can't do anything about it until June."

Western Front

Gironde River, but the garrison continued to fight hard south of the river.

This was the general situation along the front tonight.

Ross Munro, Canadian Press war correspondent, said the Germans were flooding the country before their Grebbe defence line in Holland to block the Canadian advance. They had opened sluice gates north of Amersfoort and flood waters from the Zuider Zee were beginning to inundate large areas.

This, coupled with flooding between Utrecht and Amsterdam west of Amersfoort, was creating a formidable barrier before the Canadians. One Canadian division was closing in strength on the southern end of the Grebbe Line, which runs for 18 miles south from the Zuider Zee to the Neder Rhine.

British Second Army tanks met only scattered opposition in their sweep toward the Elbe near Hamburg. Luneburg, the last big town left to the Germans west of the Elbe, was reached by the 11th Armored Division after an eight-mile advance.

On their left the 7th (Desert Rats) Armored Division pushed three miles into the village of Kampen, 18 miles due south of Hamburg. It was expected that Hamburg would be strongly defended. On the right, the 6th Airborne Division reached a point 11 miles east of Uelzen and 15 miles from the Elbe. Uelzen virtually was cut off.

In two days of fierce street fighting troops and tanks of the United States Ninth Army drove the last Germans from the ruined industrial city of Magdeburg on the west bank of the Elbe River 60 miles west of Berlin. Flame-throwing tanks were used to burn out the last fanatical Hitler Youth snipers.

Magdeburg, once a city of 334,000 and the 20th largest in Germany, was badly smashed.

Duesseldorf, last big city held by the Germans in the devastated Ruhr pocket, was falling to American airborne troops. Only 125 square miles of the trap remained to be wiped out, and the disaster of the German army there promised to eclipse even that of Stalingrad on the Russian front.

Up to Tuesday night a total of 309,484 prisoners had been taken in the blackened area which was the cradle of German military might, and there were believed to be still some 50,000 Germans in the region. German losses in killed and captured at Stalingrad were more than 312,000.

Troops of the United States First Army, drove to within two miles of the centre of Leipzig after five days of bitter fighting against a determined garrison, and others closely besieged the cities of Halle and Dessau, southwest of Berlin. Halle was cleared except for its southern outskirts.

Third Army infantry cleared Zwickman, 18 miles southwest of the besieged fortress city of Chemnitz, then crossed the Zwick Mulde River and drove on five miles to Thierfeld.

Nuernberg had been penetrated at four different points by the United States Seventh Army, but enemy resistance still was fierce in that bastion at the approaches to Hitler's holdout fortress in the Bavarian Alps. Ninety-six guns defending the city had been destroyed, damaged or captured in the past 24 hours.

Women were reported manning guns inside Nuernberg, as they were in Leipzig. Among prisoners taken from the Nuernberg garrison was a soldier with one arm. Two others had legs missing.

French troops driving southward toward Switzerland on the eastern bank of the Upper Rhine reached Dinghingen, ten miles southwest of Offenburg, and pushed on through the heart of the Black Forest. The French took 1,800 prisoners Tuesday and surrounded another group of 2,400 south of Pforzheim.

The Turkish radio reported a civilian uprising had broken out in Stuttgart, which is in the path of the French advance.

Pope Asks for Special Prayers

VATICAN CITY, April 18 (AP).—Pope Pius XII in an inferential reference to the San Francisco Conference today called for special prayers asking Divine assistance to be given world leaders to frame a peace which "takes equity and justice into account."

The Pope asked for special prayers during [illegible] month of the Blessed Virgin—and the period in which the San Francisco Conference is expected to do most of its work.

Appoint Delegate to Amalgamation Group

Charles Peck was chosen as a delegate to act on the Greater Victoria Unification Committee, whose object is the amalgamation of all Greater Victoria municipalities, at a meeting of the Victoria and District Trades and Labor Council last night.

The council forwarded a substantial donation to the Solarium Junior League for its annual "April Shower of Dimes," and urged all locals to do likewise.

George Wilkinson, secretary, presented a comprehensive report on the Citizens' Rehabilitation Council, noting the organization was open to anyone interested in its work.

After considerable discussion on the recently formed labor committee set up by the Provincial Government, the council decided to co-operate with a view to obtaining the greatest possible recognition for labor.

Canadians

tanks had reached the Zuider Zee, six miles south of Harderijk.

Southeast of Amersfoort, infantry of the British 49th West Riding (Yorkshire) Division, which captured Arnhem Saturday and began a drive northwest, was closing in strength on the southern end of the Grebbe Line.

Between the Neder Rhine and the Waal, which flows roughly parallel to the Neder, Canadian tanks with Belgian infantry advanced from the western end of the Arnhem "island"—flat land between the two rivers—without making contact with the enemy.

The Germans were pulling every soldier possible back into the Grebbe Line.

Meanwhile defence of the northern part of the Grebbe Line is causing the Germans plenty of grief. They intended that forces from Apeldoorn should fall back into that sector but the Apeldoorn garrison was cut off by the Canadians and smashed to pieces.

Canadian infantry pursuing this garrison west from Apeldoorn, 15 miles north of Arnhem, caught one column in a woods, killed 150 and took 400 prisoners.

Meantime, leading Canadian troops were only 20 miles from Amsterdam, but chances of a breakthrough were not bright, in view of the flooding.

Estimates of total German strength in "Fortress Holland" now run as high as 110,000, with trained combat troops around 15,000. The prisoners taken between Arnhem and the Zuider Zee were all from fighting units.

Order Chaplin to Pay $75 Weekly

LOS ANGELES, April 18 (AP).—Charles Chaplin was ordered today by Judge Clarence L. Kincaid to pay $75 a week for the support of 18-month-old Carol Ann Berry, who, a jury ruled yesterday, is the comedian's child.

This is the amount the comedian has been paying under a pre-trial agreement.

Her guardian, Attorney A. H. Risse, testified at the support hearing today that in his opinion the child needed $1,000 to $1,500 a month.

FIFTH BOOK

NEW YORK, April 18 (AP).—Prime Minister Mackenzie King's fifth published work, "Canada and the Fight for Freedom," a volume of speeches he delivered between September, 1941, and May, 1944, has been published in the United States. It follows "Canada at Britain's side," which contained his earlier war speeches, published in 1941, and will be published by Macmillans almost immediately in Canada.

Perry, Minister of Education, will be principle speakers at a joint convention here tomorrow night, called to nominate a Coalition candidate to contest the by-election called to fill the seat left vacant by the death of Hon. One hundred delegates, 50 from the Liberal party and 50 from the Progressive Conservative party, have been chosen to nominate the candidate.

Ex-Mayor Fred A. Hume reiterated a previous announcement he made last year that he would contest the election as an Independent candidate.

Only other candidate in the field to date is Jack Greenall, who was nominated some time ago by the Labor Progressive party.

The Fighting Forces

Now Instructor

F.O. DAVID B. ASCOTT

Son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Ascott, Deep Cove, who recently completed a tour of operations, is now an instructor at a base in England, according to word received here. F.O. Ascott was a student of North Saanich High School, and took an active interest in sports, particularly badminton and softball. Enlisting in the R.C.A.F. in July, 1942, he went overseas in November of 1943.

In Allied Hands

LT. LESLIE ENTWISTLE

Who was reported missing last July, and later turned up as a prisoner of war in Germany, is now in Allied hands, according to a cablegram received yesterday by his wife, who resides here, with their young son, at 1160 Richardson Street. Enlisting early in the war, Lt. Entwistle received his training at Gordon Head, and later served as instructor at that centre before going overseas early in 1944. Originally with The Canadian Scottish Regiment, he transferred to the Calgary Highlanders at a later date. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Entwistle, 1160 Vista Heights. Born and educated here, he was employed as an automobile salesman before the war.

Plays King Neptune

COM. (E.) H. ELLIOTT, R.C.N.R.

Of Victoria, and a veteran of China Sea service, who acted as King Neptune for the official ritual of crossing the equator aboard Canada's first cruiser, H.M.C.S. Uganda, which has arrived safely in Australian waters to join the British Pacific Fleet, after a 20,000-mile journey from a United States naval yard, where she was commissioned on Trafalgar Day, 1944.

The Uganda was the first Canadian warship to cross the equator via the Indian Ocean, after being bombed at Salerno in 1942, and then refitted. The traditional "crossing the line" ceremonies were carried out in full regalia. Several hundred of the Uganda's sailors were officially "baptized."

The ship's commanding officer was Capt. E. R. Mainguy, O.B.E., R.C.N., of Duncan.

Serve in Belgium

Inseparable pals, Pte. Henry "Hank" Hickman, left, and Pte. Melville John Barrett are both serving in Belgium.

Pte. Hickman, 23, was born and educated in Manitoba, and attended the Provincial Mechanics School here. Enlisting in February, 1940, he and Pte. Barrett served together in the 2nd Light Anti-Aircraft, R.C.O.C., at the Armoury, under the command of Lt. Jack MacKay, who was recently discharged. "Hank" and his pal were given the nickname of the "Gold Dust Twins," because where one went so did the other. Both men went overseas together and were separated on arrival in England. "Hank" went to Sicily, and then to Italy, while Melville was in Sicily, a jump behind him.

Finally both boys were serving in Italy. They kept in constant touch with each other and met on occasional leaves. Recent word revealed that the men are now serving in Belgium, "Hank" with the R.C.E.M.E., and Melville with the R.C.O.C. They have yet to meet there.

Discovers Head

During the battle for Emmerich, Pte. H. D. G. Jones, Victoria, Canadian Scottish Regiment, discovered a large bronze head of Hitler on a pedestal in the canteen of an oil refinery. After one look he decided it could be put to better use. "I am going to use it for target practice, and charge the boys 5 cents a shot," he wrote.

Expected Home Soon

Sgt. Wallace (Wally) O. Cameron, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cameron, 1221 Fairfield Road, a United States A.A.F. radio air gunner, who was listed as missing following a raid over Germany on March 3, expects to be home soon, according to a cablegram received by his parents yesterday.

The 21-year-old airman had been flying aboard a Fortress from an 8th Air Force bomber station in England. It is assumed he was in a hospital taken by one of the Allied armies during its drive through Germany. Born in Victoria, Sgt. Cameron attended local schools and was a student at the University of Washington before enlisting in 1942. He was home on a short furlough last December.

Corporal Liberated

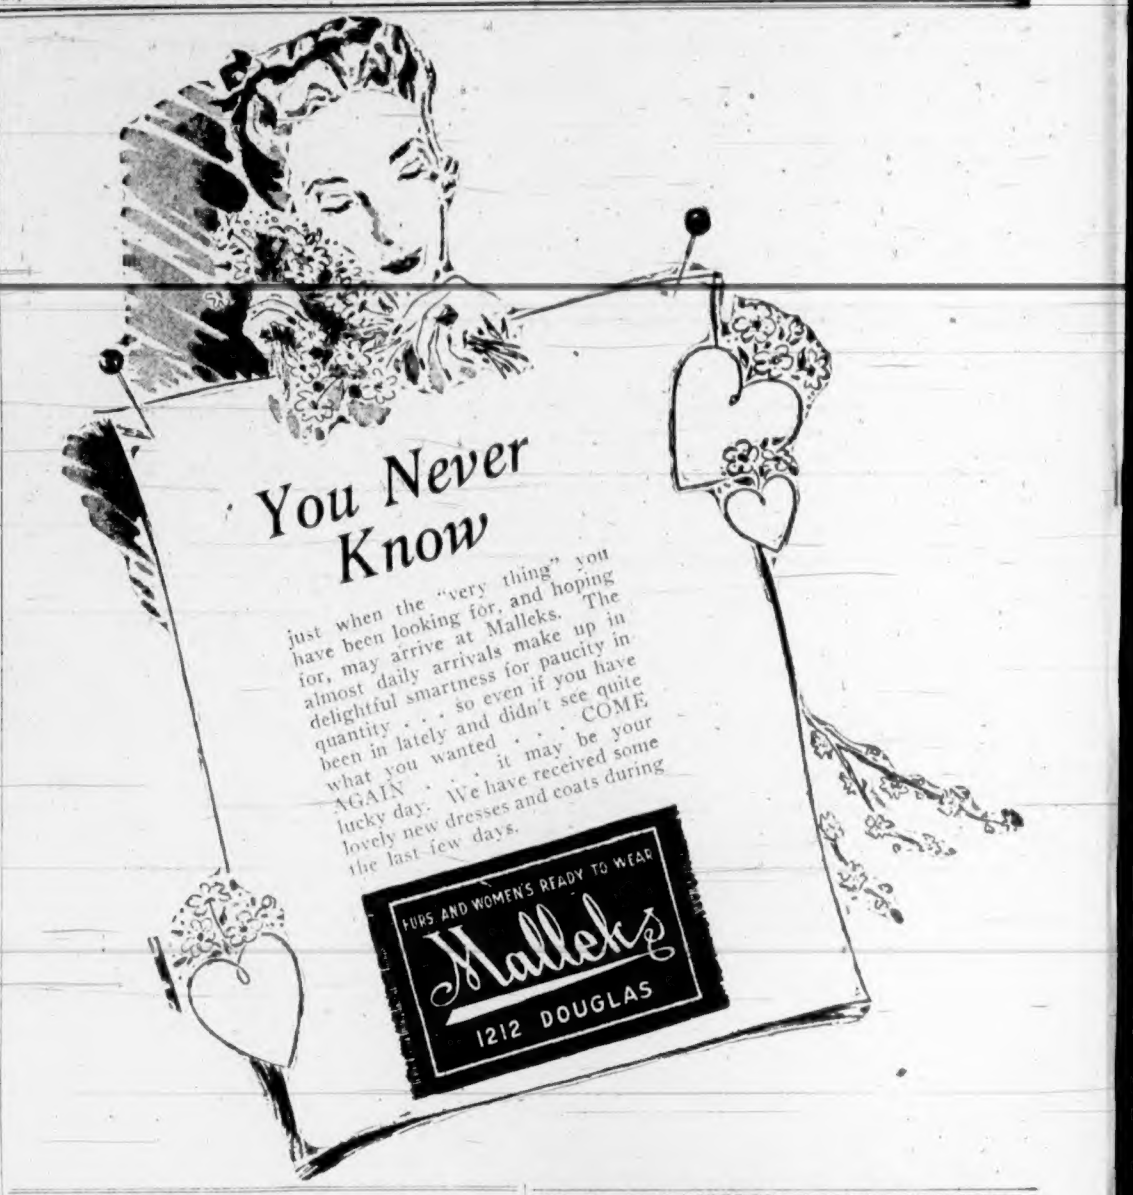

Corporal Malcolm Alan Martyn, son of Colonel D. B. Martyn, formerly officer commanding Vancouver defences, has been liberated from a German prison camp by advancing Allies, Mrs. Martyn, his mother, has informed friends here.

Corporal Martyn was with his father's old unit, the Canadian Scottish Regiment.

The family now resides at Seattle, but father and son returned to Canada to join the Canadian forces when war broke out. Colonel Martyn left for the East on military duty recently.

Work Is Slogan For Loan Drive

Greater Victoria's Eighth Victory Loan campaign will be marked by few spectacular attractions, and few celebrities, but on Monday, Victory Loan workers and the public will get down to a determined drive to achieve the highest bond total to date in this area. The official object is $6,800,000, but it is hoped that figure will be beaten by a wide margin.

Chief events during the campaign will be the pre-loan event at the "bond shell," View Street, on Saturday, in which a High School choir and the R.C.N. Band will participate.

On Monday, Lt.-Gen. Sir William Dobbie, C.G.M.G., K.C.B., D.S.O., LL.D., formerly Governor of Malta, will unfurl the Victory Loan pledge pennant at a ceremony on the Causeway.

On the Saturday following, the Victory Loan parade, now being organized by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be featured.

Several speakers from the armed services will take part in the campaign and films will be shown to hundreds of groups.

The campaign officials said yesterday, will be mostly "plain hard work," with glamor disregarded in favor of Winston Churchill's plea for "one more heave."

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 18 (AP).—The Consolidated-Vultee Aircraft Corporation reported today that production of B-24 Liberator bombers in the San Diego division would end May 25, two weeks ahead of the original schedule. After that date skilled labor will be utilized on the Dominator B-32, RY-3 transport projects and on experimental programs now in progress.

Ernie Pyle Dies On Pacific Isle

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP).—Ernie Pyle is dead. The noted little war correspondent, beloved alike of privates and generals, was killed Tuesday on Ie Jima, a small island lying off Motobu Peninsula of Okinawa.

His death was announced by Navy Secretary Forrestal and President Truman issued a statement of condolence.

"The nation is quickly saddened again by the death of Ernie Pyle," Mr. Truman said.

Mr. Forrestal said Pyle was killed instantly by Japanese machine-gun fire while standing beside a regimental commanding officer. He added: "Mr. Pyle will live in the hearts of all servicemen who revered him as a comrade and spokesman."

Ernie Pyle saw more war than many soldiers, and he hated it. Twice in Europe he barely escaped the death that overtook him on Ie Jima where he was writing his daily column.

In 1944 he was awarded a Pulitzer Prize for distinguished correspondence during the preceding year. He also received the Purple Heart for wounds suffered in action on the Anzio beachhead.

When he returned from France last Fall, he said in a farewell column from Paris, distributed by United Features Syndicate: "I'm leaving for one reason only—because I have just got to stop . . . I have had all I can take for a while."

He was the author of "Ernie Pyle in England," "Here Is Your War" and "Brave Men."

London Poles

"Such a group," he said, "would not be representative. Such a group would be under the direct control of Russia."

WASHINGTON, April 18 (AP).—The troubled question of Polish representation at the San Francisco World Security Conference persisted today with Russia reported renewing her demand that the Soviet-backed Polish regime be invited if a Coalition Government is not set up in the week before the conference opens.

State Secretary Stettinius told a news conference that a new Russian note on Poland was received this morning, but did not announce its content.

The Russian demand was rejected by Britain and the United States when it was first presented some time ago. It was reiterated in a Moscow broadcast two days ago.

The Polish question is at the top of the agenda of the "Big Three" foreign ministers meeting here this week-end. In fact, the Allied Commission on Poland, set up after the Yalta Conference, is moving here from Moscow for consultations.

W. Averell Harriman, and Sir Archibald Clark-Kerr, respectively United States and British Ambassadors to Russia, who represent their countries on the commission, are coming to join the talks. Foreign Commissar Molotov will represent Russia. Foreign Secretary Eden Great Britain, and Mr. Stettinius the United States.

There were indications that a decision on a reply to the Russian note is being held up until the three foreign ministers can talk things over. M. Molotov is expected before the end of the week.

However, it was clear that the State Department has decided to inform the Russians that American public opinion makes necessary the fulfillment of the Yalta pledge for organization of a new, broadly representative Polish Government.

Wing Commander Bader

There will be intense satisfaction in every Royal Air Force mess today at the safe recovery from a German prison camp of Wing Commander Douglas Bader, the British fighter pilot who commanded a squadron of Canadian fighters in the Battle of Britain. Injured before the war, Wing Commander Bader lost both legs. He flew with artificial limbs, and with such distinction that he was awarded the D.S.O. and the D.F.C., with Bars to both, before he went down in a raid over enemy territory in August, 1941.

His squadron, in the air behind him, followed him down to the ground; shielding their commander from the fire of the enemy. Later, when they heard he had damaged his artificial limbs, they raided German territory to drop him a new set. Wing Commander Bader was no quiescent prisoner of war. He escaped three times from German prison camps, and three times was recaptured. His release after three years' confinement came this week when United States troops reached the prison camp he was in and liberated everyone.

While there have been many instances of outstanding personal courage in the war, there is an especial affection for the man who fought with his heart most of all, and whom no set of handicaps could down. The survivors of his squadron, a famous one in the annals of the Royal Air Force, will celebrate today the happy return of an airman's airman. Wing Commander Douglas Bader, D.S.O. and Bar, D.F.C. and Bar, knight errant extraordinary in this, the grimmest of all wars.

Box or Cox

It will make only slight difference to the people of Canada who is in Mr. Mackenzie King's Cabinet when the general election comes. Box or Cox, the record of the Administration will be the same, and it is upon that record that the country will vote; influenced or uninfluenced by the thousand million dollar promises for the future. It will be noted, meanwhile, that five Cabinet Ministers are electing to quit the ship of state now, before the test at the polls, and some of these no doubt will be prevailed upon to accept seats for life in the Canadian Senate.

Of the seven new appointees to fill vacancies in the Cabinet and two revived disused portfolios, four are parliamentary assistants to various Ministers of the Crown. Of the three remaining, Mr. Speaker Glen probably will be the best known by the general public in Canada. Two Liberal members, or nominees, without previous Cabinet experience, complete the pre-election Cabinet of Mr. King, now twenty-two members in all.

Declining the test at the polls as members of Mr. King's Cabinet are Messrs. Crerar, Michaud, McLarty, Macdonald and Major-General LaFleche, who held the portfolios of Resources, Transport, Secretary of State, Naval Affairs and War Services, respectively. Of these, Mr. Macdonald and Major-General LaFleche were prominently before the Canadian people in control of part of the nation's war effort; Mr. Macdonald in connection with the Royal Canadian Navy, and General LaFleche in respect of the Ministry of War Services.

The substitution of exalted secretaries for Ministers may or may not give strength to the Cabinet of Mr. King, depending somewhat upon the men who are being replaced. Parliamentary assistants, recently created in Canada, are in an in-between position between the Government and the Civil Service. No group of men at this late date, however willing, can have much bearing on Canada's prosecution of the war. What their attraction will be for the general public as election-bait will be known in due course. One-third of Mr. King's Cabinet apparently were not ready to risk their political fortunes at the polls under his leadership, either on June 11 or upon any other date.

Progress and Confusion

Consolidated and fast progress in the Battle of Germany is now matched by the confusion of reports from nearly every region around its perimeter. Some dispatches are coming to us from the very centre of Germany; others from the fringes, north, south, east or west. It is unlikely that the United Nations will say precisely where any force is while the battle is in its present state. The results day by day are being measured rather in the toll of German prisoners being led in, and in the progressive weakening of the enemy at all points.

Reports via Sweden of panic among Nazi officials at Berlin and elsewhere might well be true. Administration has broken down in Germany, even as communications have been cut between the north and the south, the east and the west. The Luftwaffe, with its broken back, cannot get its planes up, and the planes of the United Nations are everywhere. We see, and the enemy cannot see. There can only be one end to that, when superior and fully co-ordinated forces are marching against a disorganized enemy.

Germany is beginning to betray the last of her "friends." Quisling bands in the border nations are being left to fight in defence of themselves. Dutch Nazis are turning their own land into a battleground, as current reports reveal. Each such band has two enemies: the forces of the United Nations and their own countrymen. There is many a [illegible] that will be cast up and paid in the weeks that are to come, when traitors are uncovered by those they betrayed, for a price.

Outside of the commanders in the field, who presumably knew, if it had been said six months ago that the closing actions in Germany would come in this fashion not many people would have believed it. The enemy's collapse on the Rhine and his reversal on the Danube seemed among the least likely of possibilities. But they came to pass. The main weight of German resistance is shifting now to a more confined area between the Oder and the Elbe. It is giving ground on both sides, and an actual junction of United Nations' forces could probably be effected at any time that it was ordered. The "invincible" German Army appears in the process of being cut into ribbons, a fitting enough conclusion to a ghoulish and unprovoked war. May the lesson last.

Firm Friends

The Globe and Mail, Toronto, paid a moving tribute in a recent editorial to the warm personal regard which existed between Mr. Churchill and the late President Roosevelt, a friendship which was to mean so much for the world. Said The Globe and Mail, in part:

"In times of stress, someone's response to your trial in offering comfort, assistance or merely his companionship, can do more than most factors to cement a deep friendship. There have been innumerable instances of this in the lives of soldiers in all wars. The facing of danger and death burns out the dross of selfishness, and creates a comradeship of great power and beauty. Few sorrows are more cruel than the loss of a friendship tried and found true on the field of battle.

"A friend who has to be coddled is scarcely worthy of the name. No true relationship can be formed with such a person. 'A friend is one with whom I may be sincere.' Directness, coupled with mutual respect, wins the highest dividends in friendship. Along with this, friendship requires magnanimity and forgiveness. To love the faults as well as the virtues is the test of true affection . . .

"Such may be the secrets of the notable friendship between Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Churchill. Destiny called them to high office in a time of crisis, and their young friendship was tried in the fierce fire of historic responsibility. It proved firm to the end.

"Through the deliberations of world conferences, through the hidden day-by-day consultations, the catalysis of this great friendship smoothed the friction of the immense powers it guided. One of the friends is gone. The measure of their success is the measure of Mr. Churchill's loss. All who have lost a friend will tender him their sympathy."

Seen in Passing

Since the provincial taxpayer is to foot the bill, the British Columbia Government should state now both the term for which the new Power Commission has been appointed, and what remuneration it is proposed to pay its three members. The public has not forgotten the origin and contract of the British Columbia Public Utilities Commission, which now stands deprived of one of its most advertised functions—the control of hydro-electric utilities.

Many will regret sincerely the loss to this city of the services of Mr. Forrest L. Shaw, the City Solicitor. His work on the Greater Victoria amalgamation analysis was well done, and the logic of that appeal was beginning to bear fruit. A barrister who has known Victoria over a considerable period of time, Mr. Shaw will be difficult to replace in the service of the corporation, now that he has accepted other work. His interest in the community was both abiding and deep.

From "Atalanta"

For Winter's rains and ruins are over,
And all the season of snows and sins;
The days dividing lover and lover,
The light that loses, the night that wins;
And time remembered is grief forgotten,
And frosts are slain and flowers begotten,
And in green underwood and cover
Blossom by blossom the Spring begins.

The full streams feed on flower of rushes,
Ripe grasses trammel a traveling foot,
The faint fresh flame of the young year flushes
From leaf to flower and flower to fruit;
And fruit and leaf are as gold and fire,
And the oat is heard above the lyre,
And the hoofed heel of a satyr crushes
The chestnut-husk at the chestnut-root.

In Holland Now

By L. S. B. SHAPIRO
North American Newspaper Alliance

WITH THE CANADIAN ARMY IN HOLLAND (Delayed).—Of all the white-hot hates directed against the Germans by the nations of the world, perhaps the most intense is that of the Dutch people. Despite the suffering and indignities inflicted upon them during the past five years, they feel that by far the greatest crime the Nazis have yet perpetrated lies in the decision of the German High Command to make a battlefield of Northwest Holland, including The Hook, containing Amsterdam, Rotterdam and The Hague.

In no other liberated country of Western Europe has this correspondent noted such flaming enmity as the Dutch feel for the Germans because of the ordeal for this already lacerated, tortured section of Holland. It is a type of enmity which will require generations to erase.

Holland has been a curious problem for the Allies. Since October, the Dutch Government has put pressure on Gen. Eisenhower to mount an offensive for the liberation of Amsterdam and other cities, but the Allies felt it would mean suffering for the people if the easterly direction of the Spring offensive forced the Germans to retire from Holland without a battle.

During the last two months, the Allies did everything in their power to avoid making a battlefield of Holland. A review of Allied operations since the opening of the final offensive on February 8 shows that Eisenhower made a deliberate effort to leave open an escape corridor for the Germans between Arnhem and the Zuider Zee in the hope that they would evacuate the stricken country. This was in direct contradiction to the settled Allied policy, which is to destroy German divisions at every possible point.

Even pressure from London for a direct assault on the V-2 sites along the Dutch coast was ignored because of Allied anxiety to spare the Dutch further suffering.

Up to last week it looked as though the Germans were taking advantage of the escape corridor. Now, however, it is clear that the Nazis decided to fight to the end in Holland, and a full-scale offensive by the Canadian Army has begun.

Reports from The Hook of Holland are growing more macabre every day. Because of the extensive flooding, people are unable to bury many who have died of starvation and disease. Grave diggers strike water two feet below the surface. Bodies are being stored temporarily in warehouses, churches and public buildings. As a result, there is a great increase in rats carrying disease to all parts of the communities.

On top of starvation and disease, the Dutch now are facing vicious battles in their cities. The Germans have about four good divisions in Western Holland, including 8,000 fanatical Dutch S.S. troops. The latter will undoubtedly fight to the death because they have no alternative. This will climax the most disastrous five years in Dutch history, and the usually calm, quiet-spoken Netherlanders in liberated sections vow they'll never forget or forgive. The Germans have succeeded in inflicting upon Holland a "new order for a thousand years." That new order is: "Hate Germany."

Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

Observation Car

By G.B.

Drastic curtailment of production of hydrogen peroxide for civilian use caused dark days for many girls . . . From the American Automobile Association news service: "Programs for the relief of passenger car transportation have so bogged down that it will take a miracle to prevent millions of vehicles from going off the roads by mid-year. There is a definite possibility of a breakdown of such proportions that it would cripple all industry and all business and hamper the successful prosecution of the war. At the same time, other forms of transportation are so overburdened that they could not take any substantial part of the passenger car load. Passenger cars carry four out of five workers to war plants. The average automobile is now eight years old. Millions of them are ready to fall apart, and the stockpile of new cars is gone. Plans should be speeded up for the release of steel, machine tools and the clearance of manufacturing channels to permit resumption of passenger car production at the earliest possible moment after victory in Europe. Even if the cars themselves should hold together, the rubber to operate them is fast running out. If we are to avoid demobilization of 3,000,000 to 4,000,000 passenger cars by Midsummer, immediate steps must be taken to divert materials and manpower to the manufacture of tires" . . . From The Kitchener Record: "In spite of all the idealistic plans for a postwar paradise, most of us will have to keep on working like the 'dickens' in order to make a living" . . . From a schoolboy's essay: "Caution is when you are afraid, and cowardice is when the other boy is afraid" . . . When chaos reigns in Germany, the country will probably be better off than it was with Hitler in power.

Aerial Raids

United States 9th Air Force fighter-bombers flew 1,137 sorties at a cost of two planes, destroying 19 German aircraft on 11 fields and shooting down 17 in combat. The 9th also lost one twin-engined bomber out of 600 sorties.

Helgoland is just a dot in the North Sea but it is one of Germany's most vital naval bases and submarine lairs.

Spitfires and Mustangs guarded the 1,000-bomber force, one of the largest dispatched in daylight by the R.A.F.

The R.C.A.F. Halifaxes concentrated on an airdrome on the island of Dune, three-quarters of a mile from Helgoland.

The airdrome was pulverized so heavily that Flt. Lt. Greg Titus, a Thunderbird Squadron pilot, of Yarmouth, N.S., said: "It looked like a stale cake crumbling under a knife."

Nearly 500 United States fighter-bombers scoured rail traffic during the morning along the Czecho-Slovak border from the area of Plauen to near Regensburg, while a force of two-engined bombers went after the 100,000-ton-capacity oil storage depot at Neuburg, 50 miles south of Nuernberg. 9th Air Force planes shot down four German aircraft and destroyed two others on the ground during the morning.

WITH THE R.C.A.F. IN GERMANY, April 18 (CP). — German strong points, supply columns and gun positions now are being blasted by the R.C.A.F. Typhoon fighter-bombers flying from this airfield in Germany.

This is the first all-Canadian wing to set up shop in Germany and one of the first of all Allied air forces to challenge the Luftwaffe from its home ground.

Nearby is an R.C.A.F. air evacuation unit, speeding wounded back to Britain or rear areas in Europe, and an R.C.A.F. mobile field hospital in tents.

Moving day was like a circus on the road. From morning to night long convoys piled with tents and equipment wound along The Netherlands highways, across the Maas River and into Germany. A huge airfield has been carved out of the forest and R.A.F. planes already were flying from it.

For air and ground crews it meant moving back into tents for the first time since Normandy, and many officers moved back into caravans and the backs of trucks.

Sqdn. Ldr. J. D. Robertson, of Watson, Sask., chief flying control officer, soon had his mobile control tower installed and Flt. Lt. Joe Lyall, of Banff, Alta., and Winnipeg, had turned a caravan into an intelligence room.

A day later the ground crew arrived, the first Typhoons touched down on the still-bumpy runways, and the first operation was carried out.

Italian Front

Gen. Mark Clark, Allied commander in Italy, today congratulated the British Eighth Army on the "magnificent start" it had given the Italian Spring offensive.

In a message to Lt.-Gen. Sir Richard McCreery, Eighth Army Commander, Gen. Clark said it augured well for the success of the campaign.

While the Eighth Army captured by-passed Argenta, 24 miles northeast of Bologna, and thrust within 7,000 yards of Bondeno, the Germans fought back stubbornly with tank-supported infantry counter-attacks.

South of Bologna in advances on both sides of the Bologna-Florence highway, Fifth Army troops took Monteramici and San Prospero against fanatical resistance from enemy troops in scores of caves, tunnels and pillboxes.

Sid Feder, an Associated Press war correspondent, quoted American officers as saying the suicide resistance being encountered was due to a proclamation by Hitler and Himmler that reprisals would be taken against the family of any soldier who surrenders or fails to fight to the last bullet.

One German prisoner, Feder reported, committed suicide after his capture.

Northeast of the Sillaro River, Italian troops rounded up 1,000 German prisoners in their pursuit of the enemy.

the next few hours and threaten Berlin from the south by bringing the frontal defences on the Oder to crash.

"But there is nothing to confirm as yet the real menace this attempt would present. As long as the German tank attacks can bind Konev on the new north-south line—the Cottbus-Spremberg Line—a great swing to the northwest is still a paper proposition."

The towns of Cottbus and Spremberg are 13 miles apart on a line 18 miles west of the Neisse. This position would be 27 miles west of the town of Finsterwalde and 73 miles east of the Americans at Wurzen.

Moscow maintained official silence concerning those fronts, but Russian dispatches from that zone said Soviet troops could see fires in Berlin. One dispatch reported a sharp tank battle to keep reinforcements moving into a bridgehead across a "swift-flowing, deep" river. Either the Neisse or the Oder east of Berlin would fit that description.

The Germans also reported that a terrific tank battle was raging between Cottbus, 49 miles southeast of Berlin, and Goerlitz, near the Saxon border, where the third major Russian offensive apparently was driving for a link-up with the Americans at Wurzen, 90 miles due west in the Leipzig area.

The central front, roughly a 60-mile arc from Eberswalde, 18 miles northeast of Berlin, to Muellrose, 29 miles southeast of the capital, was described by the Germans as aflame with battle as the Soviets drove through massive defences of dragon's-teeth interlocking concrete pillboxes and gun emplacements. The main effort was reported to be a frontal assault from Seelow Heights on the Kuestrin-Muencheberg road, but other claws ripped southwest from Wriezen, 24 miles from Berlin, and another tore up from the Frankfurt area.

German propagandists exhorted Berliners to brace themselves for a struggle inside the city, and the Transocean Agency in a night broadcast intimated it expected the Russians to be at Berlin's city limits by Friday, saying: "Tomorrow and the day after one of the bloodiest battles of this war will develop before the gates of Berlin."

The German radio claimed nearly 600 Russian tanks had been destroyed in the Kuestrin-Frankfurt area since the beginning of the offensive Monday morning. It admitted Russian gains east of Wriezen and in the area northeast of Bad Freienwalde, eight miles east of Eberswalde.

A Moscow dispatch from the front said Red Army troops had prepared victory banners to be nailed up Berlin.

On the contrary, Moscow has made it clear it wants the present Polish Government in Warsaw to be represented. The British Government has not yet been informed of discussions in Moscow with representative Poles who are outside the Lublin Provisional Government. With the absence from Russia of Foreign Commissar Molotov, the committee of three set up by the Yalta Conference to try to settle Poland's political future will cease to function. This fact strengthens hope that Foreign Secretary Eden, with Mr. Molotov and Mr. Stettinius, may be able to reach some agreement in Washington.

A deadlock has arisen in the Commons over the admission of Dr. Robert McIntyre, first Scottish Nationalist to be elected to Parliament who refused to have party sponsors, as is the custom, because he does not wish to be identified with existing parties.

The Times editorially says the House of Commons is also the house of common sense, and will no doubt be able to make exception in this instance, as it has done in the past. No precedent has been established for the question of the ancient rule and there must be sponsors, but there is a simple way of finding exceptions to it.

West opened the club king and East, who most certainly could not stand a shift of any description, gave a vigorous "come-on" with the queen. West led a second club—and there was the poor declarer squarely on the spot! Obviously, he could not refuse to ruff and concede defeat then and there, but after he had ruffed with the heart nine, he couldn't reach his own hand to draw trumps! He cashed the ace and queen and, making the best of a hopeless situation, started to run diamonds. West, however, ruffed the second round and shifted to spades. Now South had to lose some more tricks getting out of the dummy!

This represented quite a loss for North-South in view of the six diamonds with 100 honors that would have been "back to back." At a diamond contract North himself would have ruffed the second club and drawn trumps, then merely through the reasonably good luck of getting a 3-2 break of the outstanding hearts, he could have run the entire heart suit and discarded two spades from his own hand.

The slam in any suit was a gamble, since after North's duc-bid force to game, South would have had to rebid his heart suit, even if he lacked the king. However, it was not a bad gamble to depend on South for as much as he had, and the real error was to select hearts instead of diamonds as trump.

Prefabricated Houses Still Being Discussed

QUEBEC, April 18 (CP).—Hon. E. C. Carson, British Columbia Minister of Mines, said here tonight that no offer of prefabricated houses had yet been made by British Columbia to the United Kingdom but that the matter was under discussion between the British and Canadian Governments.

Mr. Carson made the statement commenting on a London dispatch yesterday that representatives of the British Columbia industry had made an offer of 250,000 prefabricated houses to the British Ministry of Works.

REPORT "ABSURD" SAYS TRADE COMMISSIONER

VANCOUVER, April 18 (CP).—The British Columbia Government is prepared to sell 300 to 400 Vancouver-built prefabricated houses a month to the United Kingdom, but a London report of a private deal for 250,000 such British Columbia-made homes for Britain is "absurd," R. S. O'Meara, British Columbia trade commissioner, said in an interview tonight.

He said the British Columbia Government's offer was stalled now pending decisions by the Canadian and United Kingdom Governments on financing and supply.

British Columbia lumbermen said yesterday it would be impossible for the industry to supply sufficient timber for that number of houses and meet other requirements as well.

Under present arrangements 35 per cent of the province's timber output is assigned to the domestic market, 15 per cent goes to the United States and 50 per cent to the Empire, of which a minimum of 40 per cent is shipped to Britain.

Elmer Mitchell, timber controller for the Vancouver area, declined to make comment on the London announcement, except to say he thought the 250,000 figure was exceedingly high.

"British Columbia has not the capacity to produce enough lumber for 250,000 prefabricated houses," said C. B. K. Van Norman, a prominent Vancouver architect.

Souvenirs sent to their homes here in recent weeks by Victoria soldiers are being lent to Victory Loan headquarters for window displays in Canada's Eighth Victory Loan, opening next Monday and running to May 12.

Victory Loan Committee asks any Victorians with interesting souvenirs from the battlefields of Europe to lend them to help draw attention of the public to the loan.

One collection of absorbing interest has been lent by Mrs. Thomas Carney, 521 Linden Avenue, who received it from her husband, fighting with the Canadians in Western Europe.

It includes fancy wooden shoes from Holland, pewter and brass mugs and cups and many souvenirs of battle removed from German uniforms, as well as a pair of German binoculars and a German pistol. There are many badges with the swastika emblem, eagle badges from German coats, and corporals' stripes in gold, removed from blue uniforms.

Charles B. Hill-Tout, 1650 Hampshire Road, has lent some of his 18,000 British Empire medals and decorations which he has been collecting for years until now he has one of the finest collections in the world. The medals run all the way from Waterloo to the 1914-18 war.

Anglican Church Opens 43rd Synod of the Diocese of B.C.

Grouped around the Bishop of British Columbia at the opening yesterday morning of the 43rd Synod of the Diocese of British Columbia are these leading figures of the Anglican Church here. Left to right: Canon H. V. Hitchcox, clerical secretary; Dean S. H. Elliott; R. A. Wootton, registrar; Bishop H. E. Sexton; A. D. Crease, K.C., chancellor of the diocese; W. G. Hamilton, lay secretary, and Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunns.

Bishop Declares Execution of Nazi Criminals Common Justice

Execution of the master criminals of Germany, as demanded by the Archbishop of York, "is not a matter of revenge, but merely a question of common justice," Rt. Rev. Harold E. Sexton, Bishop of British Columbia, declared in his charge to the 43rd synod of the Diocese of British Columbia in Memorial Hall yesterday.

"The record of the Germans has indeed been a black one, and there is convincing proof of the complete ruthlessness of their methods," Bishop Sexton said. "The hands of the Nazi leaders and their subordinates are literally dripping with the blood of thousands of innocent victims, men, women and children, who have been tortured and done to death in the most revolting manner."

Formation of an international order representing strong and unchallengeable justice is an immediate postwar need, he stressed.

"It seems that force must be sanctified or dedicated by the sane peoples of the world to the service of a co-operative security," Bishop Sexton said. "There must not be another League of Nations' failure."

The hope of a growing conviction that the world is one household and the nations members of a family was expressed by the bishop.

"It is to be hoped that there will be a general realization of the fact that the future of the world is bound up with the future of religion," Bishop Sexton said. "Without it, all our schemes, for all their apparent excellence, will prove of no avail.

"Indeed the immense power put into human hands by modern science will, in a godless society, lead to irretrievable disaster. To try to reconstruct society on the basis of the good of the state, or on mere materialism, would be to revive the old evil motives to which we owe the present calamities."

FOUR FREEDOMS MUST COME

General acceptance of the Four Freedoms, "in the better world to which we look forward," must come, Bishop Sexton believed. It is hoped freedom of worship and speech are assured amongst all decently civilized peoples, he said, and freedom from want may soon prevail.

"We welcome government plans for safeguarding citizens from want and insecurity," the bishop said. "It will be a priceless boon to thousands to be able to face life unhaunted by fear of the future."

Bishop Sexton paid tribute to "our progressive and far-seeing Provincial Government," which, in matters of social reform and social assistance "apparently leads the Dominion."

Solicitous regard for the material welfare of family life was shown by the Dominion Government in initiating the Family Allowance Act, the bishop said, but he backed this commendation with the hope for similar consideration for the aged. Present rate of old-age pensions should be considerably increased, he said.

"A Government that can pour out its millions in this fashion as it has done in the prosecution of the war, might be reasonably expected to face any unemployment problem resolutely and satisfactorily," Bishop Sexton charged. "The conscience of the country will never again tolerate the awful spectacle of unemployment with its attendant ills that marred the years preceding the war, nor will the people ever again believe those who tell us that the country cannot afford to take care of the problem."

BISHOP PRAISES ARMED SERVICES

Canadian men have shown by their possession of resolve, grit and high endeavor that they are the equal of the world's best soldiers, and the same is true of "our gallant sailors and airmen," Bishop Sexton said. The record of women in the war "fills us with pride and admiration," he said.

"While we survey the European situation with a measure of satisfaction, we must not be unmindful of the Japanese menace," the bishop warned. "The warlike and aggressive tendencies of this nation must be as effectively crushed as those of Nazi Germany."

Re-education of German youth is an immediate and urgent question demanding the careful attention of the Allied leaders, he said.

Inequality of sacrifice has been a disturbing feature of the war years, the bishop said. He pointed out that some people have suffered loss and bereavement in the service of their country while for others it has been a time of unprecedented material gain.

Bishop Sexton paid tribute to the late Dr. William Temple, Archbishop of Canterbury, who died last October.

Modern sermons lack converting power and are too much like lectures, the bishop charged. The tendency to resort to startling notices and headlines was decried by the speaker, who expressed his doubt that sensational sermons achieve any good and lasting result.

If Sundays are increasingly set apart as special days, it will only be a matter of time before the Christian Year, as it is now known, will entirely disappear, the bishop warned.

Expressing concern on the acute problem of supply and training of suitable men for Holy Orders, Bishop Sexton suggested that no student should be accepted until he has received the approval of the bishop who may be asked to ordain him.

"In the present general condition of religious indifference and ignorance, we need to lay the greatest emphasis on the ministry of teaching," the speaker declared.

Bishop Sexton reported "a year of quiet, happy progress," and "on the whole and excellent spirit pervades the Diocese." He paid tribute to the clergy and laymen as among the best in the Dominion.

Raising of funds for church purposes by raffles and games of chance was termed by the bishop as "inconsistent with the church's definite stand on the question of betting and gambling."

ate, that Mr. Michaud will be appointed a judge, that Mr. Macdonald will return to the Premiership of Nova Scotia and that Gen. LaFleche may receive a diplomatic appointment, as Lieutenant-Governor of Quebec or perhaps fill a vacancy on the Board of Railway Commissions.

Mr. King, replying to questions as to the future of the retiring ministers, said this would become apparent in the next few days. He would probably announce some appointments before he left for San Francisco tomorrow night.

He said that the new Cabinet would be passing on these appointments, and added that the majority of appointments to be made to the Senate would be from sitting members of the House of Commons.

He hoped there would be no wrong impression given by such appointments. It just happened that he had thought it advisable that members who normally would have been appointed to the Senate some time ago should hold their Commons seats during the war period.

Mr. King noted that Mr. Jean, Mr. Chevrier, Mr. Martin and Mr. Abbott were graduates of the parliamentary assistants school. Mr. Glen, by virtue of his activities as speaker, also had a great wealth of experience. Dr. McCann as chairman of parliamentary committees also had experience fitting him for a Cabinet post.

Mr. MacLaren had a "good record of public service in New Brunswick."

In reorganizing the Cabinet, boosted from 20 to 22 members, Mr. King placed emphasis on youth and carried further the tendency he has shown recently to disregard traditional racial, religious and territorial limitations on the choice of ministers.

Some years ago Mr. King broke the tradition that Quebec should have one English-speaking Protestant minister and Ontario one English-speaking Catholic minister by appointing an English - speaking Catholic instead of a Protestant from Quebec. That was former Air Minister Power who resigned last November over the conscription issue.

Now he has two English-speaking Protestants, Mr. Abbott and Welfare Minister Claxton from Quebec, and two French-speaking and one English-speaking Catholic from Ontario, Mr. Martin, Mr. Chevrier and Dr. McCann.

Ontario has seven ministers in the reorganized Cabinet; Quebec, six; Saskatchewan, three, including Mr. King and Defence Minister McNaughton who is a candidate for election in that province, his birthplace; British Columbia, two, and Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Alberta and Manitoba, one each.

Mr. King told a group of reporters gathered at a press conference that he has always tried to have each province represented by one minister, and he had no doubt that if his Government was returned after the next election a minister would be chosen to represent Prince Edward Island. The island province's last minister was Hon. J. L. Ralston, who resigned as Defence Minister last November during the conscription crisis.

There are 15 vacancies in the Senate and it is possible some judicial and diplomatic posts also may be filled.

EVERY DAY

Are you Rested in the morning?

Just do this at bedtime tonight

● Do you sleep soundly and wake up refreshed, clear-eyed and buoyant, ready for the day's work? Or are your nights restless and disturbed, your mornings spoiled by fatigue and exhaustion?

If you've been waking tired and listless, why not do as thousands today are doing—simply drink a cup of Ovaltine warm at bedtime. For Ovaltine does three things to bring vigorous morning freshness.

(1) Taken warm at bedtime, it relieves that feeling of nervous tension—and helps the body to relax for sleep without drugs. (2) Processed for easy digestion, it supplies light nourishment to prevent restless tossing and turning due to digestive unrest. (3) It supplies a variety and wealth of important food elements to rebuild body and nerve cells, replenish vitality to meet the morning.

Ovaltine furnishes not only essential vitamins, but also a combination of minerals, high-quality proteins and quick energy food elements which authorities agree are necessary for health and top vitality.

So if you sleep poorly—waken tired and listless—why not turn to Ovaltine as an aid to refreshing sleep and clear-eyed, radiant morning freshness. See if you don't begin to wake up each morning brighter, and more buoyant—ready to greet the day with a smile.

Sportswear Review Features Attractive Summer Casuals

An attractive sportswear review, featuring Summer casuals in the 1945 mode, was presented yesterday afternoon and evening by the Junior Auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital, in aid of the building fund for the new wing.

More than $150 was realized by the fashion show, it was reported last night.

Highlighting the show were several [illegible] approximately $100. Costumes were modeled by ten charming mannequins. As many as seven and nine separate garments made up some wardrobes. All garments were loaned by Lyle's Junior Sportswear, Ltd., 732 Fort Street.

The first displayed featured a stunning slack-suit in buttercup gold tropicana with bright red playshoes; a light blue dressmaker suit, with a blue tweed topcoat and pink hat and gloves; a suit in Anzac red with the season's popular one-button front, and a blue polka-dot blouse; a blue and white print pique dress on slender princess lines, and a lipstick red flannel slack suit with a charming pique blouse and bowtie.

Other wardrobes meeting with warm approval were modeled. Shorts with plaid or check blouses for the teen-ager, a lovely grey French crepe dress with a Kelly green [illegible] and white check, with deep pockets, and pale yellow blouse; a dressmaker suit in aqua blue, with a white blouse and chic black hat with two roses on the front of the crown; a navy blue suit with hand-finished white sheer blouse, wide navy blue hat and red gloves; a gold two-piece linen dress with a polka dot top and a plain, well-fitted skirt; a blue and white Club Champion dress made of men's shirting material in popular shirt waist style, pinafore dresses for the junior miss, a finals of washable cotton dresses with one and two-piece styles with pique and eyelet embroidery trim.

Mr. C. Heaton played musical accompaniments on the piano, including "Song of Love," "The White Dove," "Beautiful Lady," "Quaker Girl Waltz," "The Champagne Waltz," "I'll See You In My Dreams," "Just a Prayer Away" and "School Days."

The stage was decorated with daffodils and Spring flowers and models appeared on the stage in a gold frame six feet in height. Models included Mrs. Dorothea Wheldon, Mrs. Bertha Ricardo, Mrs. C. A. MacGillivray, Mrs. Frank Gibson, Mrs. Ian MacCallum, Mrs. P. H. Brown, Mrs. M. J. Jones, Miss Audrey Joyce, Miss Bertha Crosby, and junior models Miss Diana Hibbert and Miss Corrinne Earle. Miss Wynne Varney, president, headed the models' committee and commentator for both showings was Mrs. June Beavan Lyle.

"Barbara Gould" make-up was through the courtesy of Darling's Pharmacy; flowers and plants, Ballantyne Brothers; and properties for stage setting, David Spencer, Ltd. and McCall Brothers.

Working on the committee were Miss Carroll Woolley, general convener, and Mrs. A. Satchwell, Mrs. C. A. MacGillivray, Mrs. J. O'Connor, Miss Rhoda Goward, Mrs. D. Wheldon and Miss A. Joyce. All proceeds will go toward the new wing of St. Joseph's Hospital.

WAITING TOO LONG SHE MAY BE LONELY

Dear Miss Fairfax:

"Prior to entering the service my fiancee and I became engaged, but decided not to marry until after the war.

"At the time I realized the pledge to wait was for the best interests of us both, considering the uncertainty of my return. Now that I am a returned combat man, fortunate to be among the first three grades which has financial advantages and the privilege of living off the post, I believe it's high time the agreement not to marry 'til after the war should terminate. But my girl holds fast to the promise we made before I went overseas.

"I've used every argument possible to persuade her to marry me, but she has her own ideas. She declines to leave her family and is determined to wait. She's a splendid girl, fine and loyal; and while I was abroad kept up my spirits and morale by her constant letters. But this arguing by mail may lead to a separation. I can see no reason for this waiting. I can feel our love waning while these arguments pro and con go on.—Discouraged.

I wish that girl of yours could see some of the letters which have come to this column through the years. Wails from lonesome spinsters and old bachelors who have dawdled too long over this question of marrying when the time was favorable, or putting it off to some indefinite future. If people are really in love, I can't see this toying with delays.

Not long ago I got a letter from a girl who didn't want to leave her choir in New Jersey and go to a post in Louisiana where her soldier-fiance got tired of waiting and married someone else. She was heart-broken and threatens to "end it all." Just another victim of procrastination.

You tell me you fear your love is beginning to wane while you and your girl argue the question by mail. A now-or-never letter has sometimes brought a shilly-shallying girl to her senses. Again she makes a religion of being stubborn. And then, of course, if your fiancee is one of those girls lukewarm about everything in life—husband, home, children—you would be lucky if her dilly-dallying with the question saved you from having this type of woman for your wife.

Mrs. Roosevelt Hopes for Unity

NEW YORK, April 18 (CP).—Mrs. Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt today resumed her column "My Day," in which she said: "When you have lived for a long time in close contact with the loss and grief which today pervades the world, any personal sorrow seems to be lost in the general sadness of humanity."

The column, copyrighted by United Features Syndicate, was interrupted by the death of President Roosevelt last Thursday.

"There is only one way in which those of us who live can repay the dead who have given their utmost for the cause of liberty and justice," Mrs. Roosevelt wrote. "They died in the hope that, through their sacrifice, an enduring peace would be built and a more just world would emerge for humanity.

"Any man in public life is bound, in the course of years, to create certain enmities," she added. "But when he is gone, his main objectives stand out clearly and one may hope that a spirit of unity may arouse the people and their leaders to a complete understanding of his objectives and a determination to achieve those objectives themselves."

Nanaimo Wins Safety Award

QUEBEC, April 18 (CP). — The medal for bravery, awarded by the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy for risking death to aid an injured comrade, was presented tonight to Gerard Bourassa and Urbain Valliere, miners from the No. 2 Mine of the Malartic Goldfields Company, at the annual dinner of the institute.

The citations accompanying the award told how the three men, preparing to blast in the mine, had trimmed and lighted the fuses of 46 charges. As they made their way to the nearest manway one of the charges exploded, injuring the last man. Bourassa and Valliere, who might easily have got away safely, ran back "like soldiers to a wounded comrade." Because there was no time to get him down the manway, they helped him to the far end of the stope and stayed with him until the danger was past.

Awards of the John Ryan Trophy for distinguished service in prevention of accidents underground were made as follows:

To No. 25 Mine of the Dominion Coal Company, Gardiner Mines, N.S., the regional award for the Maritimes and the Dominion award for coal mines.

To Cadomin Coal Company, Cadomin, Alta., the regional award for coal mines for the Prairie Provinces.

To Canadian Collieries, Ltd., Nanaimo, the regional award for coal mines for British Columbia.

To Sherritt-Gordon Mines, Ltd., Sherridon, Man., the Prairie and Northwest Territory regional trophy for metalliferous mines, awarded for the third consecutive year.

To Silbak Premier Mines, Ltd., the British Columbia and Yukon regional trophy for metalliferous mines.

Nine-Year-Old German Boy Shoots Soldier

DULUTH, Minn., April 18 (AP).—The slaying of an American soldier by a nine-year-old German boy was related by Lieut. William Barnes, of Duluth, in a letter from Germany received this week by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barnes, Duluth.

"We had stopped to re-form when a small boy, nine or ten years old, asked a soldier for some chocolate," he writes. "He was a cute-looking youngster and from force of habit the soldier put his hands in his pockets to see if he had any.

"Then the cute little boy drew a pistol from his clothes and shot the man through the abdomen. He couldn't miss. He was so close."

The soldier died of his wounds, Barnes wrote.

PLANETARY GUIDE FOR THURSDAY, APRIL 19, 1945

Keywords for the Day: Inspiration, ideas, pleasure.

Thursday in General—The accent is on intangibles on Thursday such as ideas, inspiration, feelings and emotions. Association with others will be helpful especially those to whom you can look for creative thoughts, advice or inspiration. This is a good time to gain information in a subtle manner. The thing you'd be wise to avoid, however, is taking chances too radically or getting off on an excessive pleasurable tangent.

If April 19 Is Your Birthdate—"Many happy returns." Famous persons born on this date include: Augustus D. Juilliard, merchant and patron of music; Mary L. Booth, author; Amos Whittemore, inventor; Roger Sherman, statesman.

Your Year Ahead—Make gains in connection with heart's desires, partnerships, marriage or public interests in the year ahead, but steer clear of anything of a speculative nature; make reasonably sure of the practicality of your ventures.

Press Gallery Doyen To Become Senator

OTTAWA, April 18 (CP).—Canada's first reporter to be called to the Senate, Charles L. (Charlie) Bishop, 69-year-old parliamentary press gallery bureau chief of Southam newspapers, said tonight he "sure was surprised" when Prime Minister Mackenzie King called him tonight to inform him of his appointment.

"And I can tell you I was pleased about it," said Mr. Bishop with a broad smile. He added that he intended to stick with his first love—reporting—"for a little while yet anyway."

Only other non-proprietor journalist to win a seat in the Upper House was the late John Lewis, editorial writer of the old Toronto Globe who went to the red chamber after his retirement.

Short, bald and mild-mannered, Charles Bishop, doyen of the press gallery, friend of young reporters, wrote his first news item for the weekly Digby, N.S., Courier more than 40 years ago.

MISSING IN STORM

FORT FRANCES, Ont., April 18 (CP).—One man is missing tonight in this Northwestern Ontario border district following one of the worst spring snowstorms in years. C. B. Montgomery, 80, of nearby International Falls, Minn., disappeared during the blizzard last night. Mr. Montgomery was the founder of The International Falls Daily Journal in 1911 and was publisher until 1928. More than six inches of snow fell during the two-day storm.

Cobras' Home Next Barrier for Troops

NEW YORK, April 18 (CP). — A mountain crawling with poison death forms one of the last defence bastions between advancing British troops in Burma and rich oil fields to the south, the British Information Services reported tonight.

It is Mount Popa, "the mountain of the Sacred Cobra," where for centuries giant King Cobra snakes have bred unmolested. The 5,000-foot extinct volcano, a Buddhist holy mountain 12 miles northeast of Kyaukpadaung, commands the surrounding plains for miles around.

OFFERS DEFENCE

PARIS, April 18 (CP). — General Henri Fernand Dentz, being tried on a charge of treason, asserted today that by resisting the British invasion of Syria in 1941 he saved the entire Middle East from falling into German hands. General Dentz contended that if he had refused to defend Syria the Germans would have stepped in and taken over that country and North Africa as well.

Says "Just Peace Is Often Severe Peace"

VANCOUVER, April 18 (CP).—Lt.-Gen. Sir William G. S. Dobbie, famed defender of Malta, at a press conference here shortly after his arrival today, said that in his opinion a just peace should follow the end of this war and "this is often a severe peace."

He does not expect this war to end with the suddenness of the last war, but considered that the German soldier, although realizing he is beaten, will continue to fight on because he will fear for the safety of his family at the hand of his own leaders.

Officer Acquitted

VANCOUVER, April 18 (CP).—Maj. John Fortin Campbell, M.C., former Nanaimo engineer officer and unit commander at Camp Nanaimo, today was acquitted by an army court-martial of a charge of using a military electric refrigerator for his private use.

Previously Maj. Campbell had been acquitted on the same charge by a civil court in Nanaimo.

VICTORY LOAN SALESMAN

Within the next few days a Victory Loan salesman will call on you. He is one of your community's businessmen who has put his regular work aside in order to help put over Canada's big job—a job that could not succeed but for the untiring efforts of this man and his fellow-workers.

He has a lot of territory to cover and a great many people to see. YOU can help him immeasurably if you:—look over your financial position in advance; arrange to see him the first time he calls; assist him to see others in your household at the same time.

Welcome him too as bringing you the opportunity to help your country at a time when large amounts of money are urgently needed to complete the defeat of the Axis powers. At the same time he offers you an investment second to none which will serve as a nest-egg to buy those post-war necessities.

So let us all put out the welcome mat for a man who really deserves it—the Victory Loan salesman!

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, April 18 (AP)—Stocks advanced broadly today on a new surge of buying that pushed the averages up to new peaks since August 3, 1937.

Prices closed on the highs with gains in the leaders ranging from fractions to more than 2 points. A continuation of yesterday's late profit-selling held the market back in the first hour but as this dried up bids started coming in fast for the steels, motors, rails and a wide variety of other shares.

Dealings totaled 1,710,000 shares against 2,070,000 yesterday.

The rise was linked with the same factors which were associated with the market's strength in recent sessions. These included business confidence in the Truman administration, the great supply of idle investment funds and general optimism over trade prospects after the war.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite advanced .7 of a point to 64.3. All of the component averages established new highs.

Santa Fe, Allied Chemical, Eastman Kodak and Servel showed final gains of 2 to 3 points. Nickel Plate, common, soared 7 1-2, and the preferred 5 3-4, just before the close.

British Columbia's Men of the Woods

The prosperity of all the people of this province depends largely upon our forest industries. Because that is so, this Company feels that a series of messages concerning the men who work in the woods and the problems of the industry will be both informative and interesting. Now, a few words about that "daring young man":

THE HIGH-RIGGER

Working 100 to 130 feet in the air, where he has climbed by means of rope and spurs, the agile high-rigger tops the spar tree—the tree selected to take the high-lead and the sky-line rigging which is used for moving and loading the logs onto trucks. At a selected point up the trunk where the diameter is at least 20 to 22 inches, the high-rigger chops the undercut, notches the sides, then puts in the back cut, swinging clear with the last blow of the axe that sends the top crashing to the ground.

The high-rigger, a star performer in the spectacular drama of log production, must be a man of great skill and resourcefulness, with nerves of steel. But it is just this challenge to courage and stamina that appeals to his sense of adventure and lures him, like all of British Columbia's men of the woods, to the job.

President Issues Loan Message

MONTREAL, April 16.—In an appeal for their full support to the Eighth Victory Loan, D. C. Coleman, [illegible] Canadian Pacific Railway, said in a message to the company's 83,000

officials and employees in Canada and throughout the Allied world:

"Six months ago, in recommending to you the Seventh Victory Loan, I said we were approaching the moment at which the ring of iron would be completely closed around Germany. For all practical purposes, that stage of the war has now been reached. It will be but a short time before the forces of the Western Allies make contact with those of the U.S.S.R., and not the wildest of Nazi fanatics can any longer delude himself into believing that Germany has not lost the war.

"Resounding victories have been won in the Orient. The brilliant successes of the forces of the United States in the Philippines, the extraordinary feats of British and Indian forces in Burma and the steady attrition of enemy forces by the Australians in the islands past which the United States Navy and Army have swept, mean that we approach the moment at which the United Nations will engage in driving the enemy from the soil of China, and in actual invasion of the Japanese homeland . . .

FACED WITH DIFFICULT PROBLEMS

"As you know, the military victories do not complete the task to which we have dedicated our efforts. The nations which have been liberated are faced with difficult problems in the reconstitution of their own governments and the re-establishment of their societies. These tasks impose upon us heavy burdens, for they cannot be accomplished without assistance from the more fortunate nations, on a scale which may demand from us sacrifices of comfort equivalent to those made for the war itself.

"In our own country we are beginning the great task of re-establishing in civil life the survivors of our fighting forces, and we still have ahead of us the reconversion of our national economy from war to peace activities.

"For all these reasons, it is of the utmost importance that the Eighth Victory Loan should be subscribed and over-subscribed . . .

"The officers and employees of the Canadian Pacific Railway have, in this field, as in actual participation in battle, and in all the tasks of supplying our armed forces, established a record throughout the war of which we are proud.

"The Eighth Victory Loan gives us an opportunity to maintain the standards we have set in the past. It is my conviction that it will receive that full support which is our duty and privilege to render."

Collishaw Sure War Nearly Over

VANCOUVER, April 18 (CP).—Satisfied that the war is "practically over," Air Vice-Marshal Raymond Collishaw returned to his native British Columbia today to make his home in Vancouver.

He came by boat and train, not wishing to overtax the luck which has saved his life a dozen times in air combat in two wars and which was with him when "red tape" forced him to cancel his reservation on the ill-fated "Commando" which disappeared on a flight to Canada in March.

He would say nothing of his plans.

"I've only been here for about two days in the last 20 years," he said, "so having a little leave comes first in my plans."

Of what he proposes to do after the leave "I have no idea yet."

In the meantime he is expected to divide his time between his home in West Vancouver and his native town of Nanaimo.

Urges C.N. Staff To Support Loan

MONTREAL, Que., April 16.—In a message to all officers and employees of the Canadian National system, R. C. Vaughan, chairman and president, urged their support of the Eighth Victory Loan.

"Twenty thousand men and women of the Canadian National system have left their homes to join the armed forces," he said. "They [illegible] humanity. They have put aside their normal life. They have parted from family and friends and gone in to hardship and danger. Many of them have returned wounded and ill. More than 500 have lost their lives. They have given all.

"The least we at home can do is stand behind them in faithfulness to duty. Spending our energies—and our money—to the utmost, since we are not called upon to offer our lives.

"The war is not over.—Even when the Nazis admit defeat and surrender and the fighting ceases in Europe, we shall have scores to settle within Germany. We have tremendous responsibilities in restoring the ravaged countries. And the war in the Pacific will enter a new and decisive phase. At home in Canada, we are confronted with great problems and tasks. We must bring our men home, care for those who are broken in body and mind, send thousands of our men back to school and college, train them for new jobs, assure them the places in our communities that they deserve.

"All this will cost money. The work must be done: The money must be provided. We all have a share in it. I am confident that every worker on the Canadian National system will do his duty in support of the Eighth Victory Loan. Our own comrades in the armed forces require it. They have set us the example."

Flyer's German Wife Is Problem

SHEFFIELD, England, April 18 (CP).—Flt. Sgt. Donald Meese, 21, Sheffield, escaped from a German prisoner of war camp and presented this country with a nice problem of international relations when he brought back as his wife the German [illegible].

Meese's story is that when he escaped from the camp he was picked up by the 19-year-old German girl, who hid him in the attic of her home and later got him to Poland in civilian clothes she stole.

He arranged to meet her in Poland and when she arrived they were married.

The girl arrived in Britain aboard a troop transport and was questioned both by security men and reporters. She said all British service wives aboard the transport were "extremely helpful and friendly" and added that she intended getting work here as a children's nurse—the job she did in Germany until "I was dismissed for being an anti-Nazi."

When the story first was known in Britain the sensational press played it under rather uncomplimentary heads. This led to a deluge of letters from the readers.

Typical of the reaction to newspaper stories was a letter from "Mrs. Genders," of Leeds, who wrote: ". . . As long as she is a good wife, what's the odds if she comes from Timbuctoo?" One columnist who wrote against the marriage, George Nelson, of The Sunday Graphic, finally admitted that of all the letters he had received "58 per cent were for the marriage, 42 per cent against it."

Meese's mother said that as long as her son loved the girl and the girl would make him a good wife, she would welcome her, "although I was shocked when I first heard the news and the idea took some getting used to."

Servicemen in letters almost universally backed the flight sergeant. One said the German girl had risked her life for the flyer, "which is more than the average British girl, who can't even stay faithful to her man, can say."

Mines May Come Ashore on Coast

SEATTLE, April 18 (AP). — The United States Navy issued a warning today against handling mines which may wash ashore along the Northern Pacific Coast.

Naval officials said civilians recently found a mine on the Washington coast "and with ill-considered rashness took complete charge of their discovery, even putting it in an automobile and transporting it. Fortunately, the mine did not explode."

The navy said mines, which occasionally are carried to continental shores from minefields in the Pacific, generally are harmless, but some may be defective and consequently dangerous.

ORGANIZED PLAYGROUND SUPERVISION NEEDED

We don't like to keep strumming on the same old harp string, but frequent trips through city park convince us more each day of the need of supervised playground activities for our up-and-coming young citizens.

And when we speak of supervised playground activities, we mean just that, with a properly-organized and planned program under the supervision of civic authorities.

Right away some people are going to jump right up on their heels and think about the expense. True, the plan would cost money to operate successfully. But [illegible] the future health of hundreds of young Victorians [illegible] to be [illegible] in dollars and cents.

St. Michael's Turn Back Canucks, 6-3

Four Goals in First Period Pave Way to Memorial Cup Play-Off Game at Toronto

TORONTO, April 18 (CP).—Toronto St. Michael's College Majors functioning with clocklike precision tonight overwhelmed Moose Jaw Canucks 6-3 to boom into a 2-1 lead in the best-of-seven Memorial Cup hockey final before 14,032 fans. Majors won the first game 8-5, and lost the second 5-3.

Reversing the form they showed in the second meeting, Majors bottled Canucks in their own defence zone with one of the most sustained offensives of the series to date. They swept into the lead with four first period goals, added another in each of the two later periods and dominated play throughout.

Canucks made their bid in the [illegible] period when Doug Toole, Frank Ashworth and Lou Hauck battered pucks behind Pat Boehmer [illegible] in the St. Michael's [illegible]

[illegible]

Canucks then staged their second-period bid but the drive fizzled when Tod Sloan took a relay from Gus Mortson behind the Canuck defence and slipped the puck between Goalie Bev Bentley's legs. Len Costello closed the scoring in the third period when he rapped home a loose puck after Bentley stopped a driving shot by Turik.

The teams meet in the fourth game either Saturday afternoon or evening depending on the result of tomorrow's Stanley Cup meeting between Red Wings and Toronto Maple Leafs at Detroit.

The Red Wings again tomorrow night will be shooting at Toronto's [illegible] Frank McCool, who has [illegible] them with successive 1-0, 2-0 and 1-0 performances before yielding to a vicious Detroit offensive 5-3 in the fourth game.

International League Opens Season Today

NEW YORK, April 18 (AP).—The International Baseball League, oldest minor league in existence, inaugurates its 62nd consecutive season tomorrow with more optimism than at any time since the United States entered the war.

President Frank J. Shaughnessy expects a turnout of approximately 75,000 fans at the four openings.

Tomorrow's schedule with probable attendances, follows:

Rochester at Jersey City (30,000), Toronto at Newark (10,000), Buffalo at Syracuse (10,000), and a Montreal at Baltimore night game (20,000).

Still glowing over last year's prosperous season, Shaughnessy said: "We expect another fine campaign in our league. Last season was our best since 1939. Only one of our clubs finished in the red financially. We had a red hot pennant race, torrid playoffs, and a tight junior world series. What more can we ask?

"Every club is well over its 21 player limit. In addition to last season's holdovers, we have been strengthened by a flock of good youngsters from the lower minors, players from the majors and a goodly number of discharged war veterans. There is not a manager who doesn't believe his team will finish in the first division this year."

Police Probing Mystery of Death of Partner-Trappers

Report that one of two trapper partners whose bodies were found in Northern British Columbia had a fractured skull has plunged British Columbia Police into a new investigation of the two deaths. The bodies were found 30 or 40 miles apart, and at widely separated times. In both [illegible]

Officials at British Columbia Police headquarters said yesterday that reports received here are far from complete and classified the deaths as another "mystery of the North" pending further investigation. Particular attention was being given to the possibility that the two deaths were connected though so far there was little foundation for such a theory.

The men were Arthur Evans and Austin O. Middlemiss, the latter a Vancouver man.

Evans' body was found January 30 by an Indian about 40 miles northeast of Bear Lake. Game Warden A. J. Jank, Prince George, who had previously trapped in that area, was assigned to investigate. Accompanied by an Indian and dog team he traveled by plane and afoot through sub-zero weather.

DIES OF EXPOSURE AND STARVATION

They found Evans [illegible] over the charcoal of a [illegible] fire and discovered he had apparently died while seeking to warm himself, for his clothing was partly burned. His Indian-type snowshoes were standing in the snow nearby, and there were holes in the snow where he had stumbled weakly about.

Evans died of starvation and exposure.

Finding of Middlemiss' body was first reported by Russ Baker, C.P.A. pilot, on April 3. He informed police Indians had discovered the body of a white man, partially eaten by animals, near the confluence of the Sustut and Skeena Rivers.

Constable B. E. Monkley, Fort St. James, and Game Warden Jank were assigned to investigate. Middlemiss was identified by papers found in his pocket. They made their original reports by portable radio.

When they returned Tuesday to Prince George more detailed examination revealed that the skull had been crushed.

Evans and Middlemiss were partners who went in to the area last Fall. So far their furs have not been located, another feature of the "mystery."

In the case of the Evans investigation alone 1,250 miles of travel, 1,000 by plane and the remainder afoot and the transport of a dog team and [illegible] by plane, were involved.

Famed Violinist In York Film

The world's greatest violinist, Jascha Heifetz, appears in the Samuel Goldwyn production, "Ragged Angels," which will open today at the York Theatre. Heifetz admits his violin is some trouble to him.

The instrument he uses is a Guarnerius and is worth $150,000. He claims it is one cranky violin. Before he plays it, the room must be heated to a temperature of 72 degrees, no less and not much more.

In "Ragged Angels," Heifetz plays music of Saint-Saens, Tschaikowsky, Mendelssohn and others while the huge symphony orchestra also in the picture plays compositions of Rossini, Mozart, Verdi, Chopin and others.

In the leading roles of those players carrying the story are Joel McCrea, Andrea Leeds, Walter Brennan and Marjorie Main.

Famed Legless Airman Freed

PARIS, April 18 (CP)—Wing Cmdr. Douglas Bader, famous legless R.A.F. fighter pilot, has been freed by American troops after three years in German prison camps, it was disclosed today.

The airman, who won renown during the Battle of Britain, had [illegible] escaped from German camps but was recaptured each time. His captors finally took his artificial legs away from him.

Bader, who gained most of his fame as the leader of an All-Canadian fighter squadron of the R.A.F., was taken prisoner when his plane was brought down in a raid over German-held territory on August 14, 1941.

Bader was credited officially with shooting down 15 enemy planes up to the time he was captured. He had been awarded the D.S.O. and the D.F.C., and bars to both.

In June, 1940, the British-born Bader took over the All-Canadian squadron which had been battered during the Dunkerque evacuation and finally led them through some of the fiercest and numerically unequal battles ever fought in the air.

Bader lost his legs in a flying accident before the war when he was regarded as one of the best stunt flyers in Britain. After many attempts, he persuaded the R.A.F. he could manipulate a plane with his artificial legs as well as most men without his handicap. His record showed he was right.

A young R.C.A.F. sergeant pilot, Jack Nickleson of Toronto, who since has been listed as missing, believed killed, dropped one set of wooden legs into France for Bader after the wing commander's capture.

TORONTO, April 18 (CP)—Mrs. Cecil Merritt, wife of Lt.-Col. Merritt, Canada's first V.C. winner in this war, said today her husband was a room-mate in prison camp of Wing Cmdr. Douglas Bader, legless R.A.F. pilot whose liberation was announced today, but she has received no information as to whether her husband also has been freed.

She said Lt.-Col. Merritt was quartered with Bader in Oflag 7B near Leipzig. It now has been overrun by United States troops.

Bader, Merritt and Maj. Gordon Rolfe of the Calgary Tank Corps [illegible] attempts to escape from prison camp and the latter two were at large four days on one occasion. No word has yet been received on Rolfe's release.

Lt.-Col. Merritt won the V.C. at Dieppe where he was captured by the Germans.

LONDON (CP)—Chief Inspector J. Soutar of New Scotland Yard, reported with a wry grin that burglars entered his home and escaped with property valued at £50 ($225).

Nursing Home May Be Ready June 30

The home is located in the former Crow Baker estate, 63 Gorge Road, and is surrounded by spacious grounds.

Work began on the project this week. Gay curtains, linens and beds are beginning to arrive. A $7,500 grant has been made by the Province for furnishings. Move Inquiry To Vancouver

Proposal of penalties against owners of Crown grant lands failing to satisfactorily restock denuded lands was attacked as an invasion of private property rights at the British Columbia forest inquiry yesterday.

The charge was made by D. N. Hossie, counsel for the Crown grant owners, in examining C. D. Orchard, deputy minister of forests, who had included such a plan in personal comments on sustained yield in an earlier brief presented to the Royal Commission.

"The future of the province must ... a modest invasion of private ..." Mr. Orchard replied ... owners of Crown grant lands ... before the commission had indicated that they were willing to accept this responsibility, it was pointed out.

Court Dismisses Charge Of Attempted Eviction

Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court yesterday dismissed charges against Ralph W. Brooks of unlawfully attempting to evict tenants of 919 Vancouver Street and making false statements in the attempt. Another charge of discontinuing ... heating and hot water ... was remanded until tomorrow on agreement of ... and Frank Higgins, defence counsel.

In making his decision the magistrate said there was no evidence that Brooks had made a demand that his tenants leave, and added that evidence on his statements to the tenants was partly in favor of the defence.

S. H. Jupp, Wartime Prices and Trade Board investigator, who was the first witness, testified that when he visited Brooks on November 20, defendant said he had told the tenants to vacate by December 1 as the National Housing Administration was taking over the building. Mr. Jupp named Hugo Willner, Miss Mary Shannon, W. Breeze, Leonard T. Martin and Mrs. Ruth Mathell as tenants.

Mr. Martin testified he had been given verbal notice by Brooks that the Government was to take over the house. He said he was asked to leave by December 1.

DISCUSSES POSSIBLE CONVERSION OF HOUSE

H. C. Perram, N.H.A. district director, said he had discussed possible conversion of the premises with Mr. Brooks on September 14, 1944. On October 31, after inspecting the place, he had written to Brooks that conversion was impractical.

Brooks and Mr. Perram had told him he could ask tenants to vacate, and if they were willing to go the Government could consider taking over the building. He named eight tenants who had moved. Mr. Willner testified that Brooks had said he was trying to get the Government to take over the building.

Harry Eng, who failed to appear in court on time to answer four charges of failing to attend militia parades, was ordered to appear in court this morning.

Bail of $10 was estreated when an Indian failed to answer a charge of intoxication.

Seven motorists paid $2.50 each for parking offences, one paid $15 for speeding and another $5 for not having a driver's licence.

OF ALL THE JOBS that your patience is most sorely tried-on, is that of a salesgirl in a hat salon. [illegible] drag hats out one after another [illegible] ... believe me, brother, [illegible] have to try and smile, amid the bonnets that slowly pile, when some husband say a bloke like me, jams one on his head just a cut-up, don't U see. Now the reason I so sympathize, and don't mind the little white lies, is because I, too, have 2 try on hats, although mine are of paper, from cut-out mats. I invariably get mixed up and put them [illegible] ... So when I'm tired, and would rather rest, I have to say—"Yes dear, I think that one's the best."

Rainiers Lose To Acorns on Home Diamond

Seattle Rainiers, pace-setters in the Pacific Coast Baseball League, dropped a 3-2 decision to Oakland Acorns last night in their 1945 home-town debut at Emil Sick's Stadium before a large opening night crowd.

Oakland bunched their hits to score a pair of markers in the first inning and pushed over the clincher in the sixth. Rainiers picked up one run in the fifth and added another in the seventh frame.

San Diego and Los Angeles broke even in their double-header with the Padres taking the opener, 9-4, and the Angels the finale, 5-1.

At Portland, Hollywood scored two runs in the ninth inning to defeat the Beavers, 2-1, before an opening day crowd of 13,000.

At San Francisco, Bernie Unalt rifled out a ninth inning single to score Johnny Trutta and give the San Francisco Seals a 10-9 win over Sacramento. The Senators had rallied to tie the score after Jo Jo White hit a base-cleaning double in the eighth.

Woodbine Park Race Meeting Opens May 19

TORONTO, April 18 (CP).—The Canadian racing season opens at Woodbine Park here May 19—and horsemen already are anticipating a revival of the lush days after the First Great War when the sport attracted free-spending crowds and such outstanding thoroughbreds as Exterminator and Carrozza.

Racing expects to receive a fillip from the ban on the sport in the United States, despite the fact American owners cannot ship their horses here. The turf's top American commentators have announced intention of visiting Canada for the 86th running of the $10,000-added King's Plate on May 26, and bookmakers across the international boundary are reported making arrangements to "invade" border points such as Windsor and Niagara Falls, Ont., to handle off-the-course wagering.

There is no dearth of racing material. Approximately 900 horses, 300 of them American-breds, are stabled in the Toronto vicinity.

Would Give Loyal Japs Free Action

TORONTO, April 18 (CP).—Angus MacInnis, C.C.F. Member of Parliament for Vancouver East, said in an interview tonight that Prime Minister Mackenzie King should follow up his proposal of August 4 last that Orientals be dispersed across Canada.

"All restrictions against loyal Japanese should be removed," he said, "except that they should not be allowed to return to British Columbia until after the war."

Loyal Japanese should be permitted to settle anywhere in Canada without disadvantages or prejudice, he added. After the war, British Columbia should be prepared to take her share.

"The Japanese problem before the war," he said, "was essentially a British Columbia problem, but now it is a Dominion problem and should be handled as one."

Prepare Coverage of Nations Conference

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18 (AP).—The Associated Press has organized news and photo coverage of the United Nations' conference starting April 25, on the most extensive scale ever undertaken for an international meeting. Its service will go to more than 2,500 newspapers and radio stations throughout the world.

An "open door" news policy, applicable to all conference proceedings except executive sessions of subcommittees, has been promised for the first full-dress effort of the United Nations to fix firmly the foundations for a world security organization. Delegates from 45 countries have been invited.

Says C.C.F. Making Vote-Catching Promises

VANCOUVER, April 18 (CP).—The C.C.F. was neither prepared nor willing to fight this war, but now is preparing to fight the peace with vote-catching hasty arrangements and promises, William Ward, Vancouver East Progressive Conservative Federal candidate, said tonight.

Speaking to a meeting of Division Three, Vancouver East Progressive Conservative Association, Mr. Ward said it was surprising to note the complete silence from the C.C.F. seats in the House of Commons during Howard Green's continued stand for the good of Canadian soldiers overseas.

"Our men who have been doing the fighting will continue to do the fighting as long as it is in the interests of Mackenzie King to appease Quebec," he said.

APPROVE PAYMENT

SEATTLE, April 18 (AP).—Federal Judge Charles H. Leavy today approved payment by the Government of $9,260 to a Japanese-American girl and $6,992 to the Auburn Chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

The girl, Miss Yoshiko Tsuji, was awarded payment in settlement for some 40 acres of farm land condemned by the Government as part of the site of the Auburn Army Depot built two years ago. She was later evacuated to Hart Mountain, Wyo.

The Future Farmers were reimbursed for loss of crops they had planted after leasing the land from her.

MAGDEBURG, April 18 (AP).—American troops captured ten carloads of red tape used by the Germans to make arm bands for the Nazi party. Now former Russian prisoners of war are cutting red stars out of it.

Observing the Patient Closely

By Dr. J. B. WARREN

It is observing the patient that counts so much in trying to locate the cause of the patient's symptoms—expression of his face, the way he walks or sits down, the shape of his body.

The thin man with a peaked face and wearing a warm overcoat is probably suffering with a lung or throat disorder, while the heavily built, calm, phlegmatic individual with a large head and well-filled paunch is much more apt to be suffering from stomach, intestine, or gall bladder inflammation.

INVITE BERGEN TO CITY

Edgar Bergen, "Charlie McCarthy," Dick Powell, George Murphy and Claire Trevor will be at Vancouver on May 2 for a Victory Loan broadcast, but it is unlikely they will come to Victoria.

Officials here said yesterday an invitation had been issued to Edgar Bergen to visit Victoria, but his radio engagements would necessitate his return to Hollywood immediately and he would be in Vancouver only a few hours.
